Three-in-One Aircraft May Take Us to Mainland

Future air travel between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle may be in revolutionary Rotodyne aircraft being built by Fairey Aviation Company in England, according to statement made by official of

Trans-Canada Air Lines in Vancouver Tuesday. Rotodyne combines principles of autogyro, helicopter, and fixed-wing aircraft. (Fairey Aviation Photo.)

Vertical take-off aircraft with forward propulsion may be used by Trans-Canada Air Lines on the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle service, it was indicated by Dave Tennant, TCA's director of operations planning, in Vancouver Tuesday.

GUILTY OF BANG

It Was So A Plane, They Say

The boom you heard at 10 a.m. Tuesday was a bust—in the opinion of many Victoria residents, including Gordon Dowding, CCF MLA for Burraby.

They are convinced the shattering noise was caused by a jet plane "busting" the sound barrier.

This despite denials from Canadian and U.S. air operations officers that a supersonic jet was in the vicinity. Mr. Dowding said: "I saw a plane and two contrails at about 20,000 feet, at the time of the explosion."

Many other people at widely scattered points reported they saw a jet plane.

Dominion Astrophysical Observatory officials reported a "very small disturbance" was recorded at 10:10 a.m.

GOV'T MUST HELP FARMERS —PEARSON

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson told a western farm delegation today he believes in government intervention.

But he gave the farmers no outright indication of whether he would fully support their demands for $300,000,000 in deficiency payments for grain. He said the Liberal party would make proposals and make its views known when the Commons debates government farm legislation.

Canada Defeats Russia 3-1

PRAGUE (CP)—Canada defeated Russia 3-1 today in the key game of the world amateur hockey championships.

A sellout crowd of 15,000 saw the Allan Cup champions from Belleville, Ont., extended to the limit by the fast-skating Russians. Canada has won both its games so far in the finals of the round-robin tournament. Russia has won one and lost one.

Canada led 2-0 after the first period and extended the margin to 3-0 midway through the third period before Russia scored.

Left-winger Dennis Boucher put Canada ahead 1-0 at the nine-minute mark of the first period and just three minutes later Moe Benoit made it 2-0 on a pass from Wayne Brown. That was the score until playing-coach Ike Hildebrand scored for Canada in the final session. (Brown formerly played for Victoria Cougars.)

The Russians scored just a second after the second period ended but it did not count.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Canada, Boucher (Brown) 9:08.
2. Canada, Benoit (Brown) 12:30.
Penalties: Smith, Canada, and Sidorov, Russia (two minutes for holding at 3:10). Hildebrand, Canada (two minutes for tripping at 14:40).

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our God and Father, Thou art Thyself our portion and our heart's desire. Heaven is bound in union with Thee and the darkness of despair in separation from Thee. Thou hast given us Thy Son, and through Him we have access in one spirit to Thee. Grant us pardon. In the assurance of sin forgiven may we live in the sunlight of Thy favor. Guide us through all life's perplexities to the end Thou hast ordained. Amen.

New U.S. Oil Import Curbs Protested by Canadians

WASHINGTON (CP)—Tougher new curbs on oil imports into the United States are in effect today.

The move is being received critically in Canada.

President Eisenhower Tuesday ordered that imports of crude oil and other foreign petroleum products be curtailed under mandatory federal control. His order replaced a system of voluntary restraints that had been operated, in one form or another, since 1957.

More sweeping than any of the voluntary curbs, the presidential order covers not only crude oil but residual oils, gasoline, jet fuel, asphalt, naphtha, fuel oil, lubricating oil, liquefied petroleum gases and unfinished petroleum products.

The restraints on crude and unfinished products went into effect today, those on gasoline and other finished products begin April 1.

Act On Report Or Strike On Friday

By PETE LOUDON

A new ultimatum for government action on bargaining rights before Friday—"or the strike is on"—was issued today by the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Publication by the government of the Carrothers Report, and implementation of its recommendations, is the only move which will avoid a work stoppage by 14,000 civil service employees within 36 hours, an association spokesman said.

General secretary of the 11,200-member BCGEA, Edward O'Connor, said at noon the wage issue is settled.

"We have accepted the money. It is no longer an issue."

He referred to cabinet release of a schedule of increases totalling $3,000,000. (See story page 2.)

But the scheduled strike at 7 a.m. Friday, he said, will go ahead unless:

1. The cabinet releases the results of the Carrothers inquiry into extension of bargaining rights to the BCGEA.
2. The cabinet agrees to implement any recommendations in the report "which are acceptable to us."

3. The implementation must be by order-in-council pending legislation at the 1960 sitting of the legislature, because it is felt it is too late to pass legislation at this session.

Meantime, the threatened strike of 156 steam engineers Thursday morning is expected to be called off this afternoon following a wire sent by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black Tuesday night.

It said the comptroller general would do all possible to provide the engineers' increase in the April cheques and their retroactive pay (for one year) in May cheques.

But Mr. O'Connor pointed out if this is acceptable to the engineers, it would mean only a one-day postponement, because if the BCGEA general strike takes place Friday, the engineers would be involved in that walkout.

Some Members in Doubt Over Demand

The switch in emphasis from salaries to bargaining rights left some members of the association in Victoria in doubt.

Some employees said this morning: "We voted to strike over wages, not over bargaining rights."

Mr. O'Connor said, "I owe you." "We have received 39 telegrams from 48 branches, instructing the executive that the issue is still bargaining rights. We have absolute authority to make this the issue."

"The rank and file is solid on this. If we break down, the membership would bolt."

Debate in Legislature Rejected

The strike crisis was broached in the legislature Tuesday night.

George Gregory (Lib. Vic. Tories) asked leave of the House to adjourn debate on estimates to consider the matter of "urgent public importance."

Speaker Hugh Shantz ruled against the proposal saying this was not urgent but had been under negotiation for some time. Mr. Gregory challenged the ruling. He waved a copy of Tuesday's Times and asked the premier to confirm the fact a crisis exists.

"This is the only Hansard we have," he said "when the premier told him the news paper was not an official document for presentation in the House."

In a division, all the Social Credit members supported the speaker in a 32-13 vote.

B.C. Federation of Labor president William Black today promised full support of his 115,000-member association if the civil service strikes.

He said support would be "financial and in respect to picket lines."

This was taken to mean no union member would deliver goods to any government operation or job, for example, if such delivery meant crossing a picket line.

He said tabling of the bargaining rights report as basis of the 1957 settlement. He said at that time, Premier Bennett promised to table the report in the House and make copies available to the association.

"It is a question of government integrity," he said.

There have been strong rumors that the report of Dr. F. A. Carrothers' inquiry recommends some form of bargaining rights. Some officials have said it would be acceptable even if compulsory arbitration replaced the right to strike, provided there was union recognition.

NORMAN CRIBBENS IN THE LEGISLATURE

How does a sleeping MLA catch the chairman's eye?

This was one of the problems confronting the House when committee chairman Alex Matthew called on J. Allan Reid, elderly Socred member for Salmon Arm, to address the assembly.

Mr. Reid did not respond. He was slumbering soundly in his chair. But after much shoulder-tapping and "yoo-hooing" Mr. Reid awoke with a start, blinked a few times and then plunged gamely into the debate on estimates for the highways department.

How had he caught the chairman's eye when he wasn't there?

"Quite simple," said genial Mr. Matthew afterwards. "Mr. Reid caught my eye before he fell asleep but a CCF member had caught it before him. I gave the nod to the other member and while this member was speaking Mr. Reid dozed off."

When Mr. Reid's turn came Mr. Matthew gave him the nod—but he was in the Land of Nod.

It was Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi's day in the House and discussion of his salary vote (a mere $12,500) took up most of the afternoon and evening.

Perhaps because his salary was at stake, hypothetically speaking, he was particularly gentle with opposition members and in almost every case promised to "look into" their suggestions for improving the provincial highway system.

Mrs. Lois Hagen, the quiet-spoken CCF member for Grand Forks-Greenwood, had a few words to say about the poor roads in her riding.

"We don't have 'Sorry for the Inconvenience' signs," she said. "We just have the inconvenience."

Then with charming tact she added: "But we know the minister is ever conscious of our needs."

Mr. Gagliardi with a courtly inclination of the head implied that he was, but did not amplify (as the government-sponsored Russian news agencies put it).

Amid the chorus of complaints it was interesting to note one member who did not complain and who rarely complains about anything—R. O. Newton, the good-humored Socred member for Columbia.

We have not heard from Mr. Newton for two or three weeks, which could mean that "everything is peaches" down in Columbia!

At one point when Mr. Gagliardi was in difficulties with the Opposition, Herbert Bruch from Esquimalt came to his aid with a eulogy of what the minister had done for Vancouver Island roads.

Mr. Bruch might perhaps be called the "Minister of Defense."

Dan Campbell, the school teacher member from Coimox, said there would be dancing in the streets when Mr. Gagliardi tore down the old bridge at Courtenay and replaced it with a new one.

He recalled how when Mr. Gagliardi saw the old bridge some three years ago he referred to it as "an optical illusion," implying that he didn't think much of it.

Mr. Campbell invited the minister, not only to replace the bridge, but to accompany him on a trip to Port Alice, where he would show him "the finest salmon and steelhead fishing in B.C."

There were, of course, murmuring protests from Interior members.

The police then marched between them in two lines, turned and bore down on the men with their clubs swinging in brutal fashion.

Jef Hall, IWA organizer, said fighting broke out after IWA pickets tried to prevent a busload of "scabs" from getting through to the Millertown woods division of the Anglo-Newfoundland Company.

He was not at the battle scene and made his statement after talking to loggers.

Three carloads of loggers following the bus were stopped. Mr. Hall said the men picked up one car "bodily and turned it around in the middle of the road."

He added: "They smashed the windshield of one and then the Mounties—well over 100 of them—came in with clubs swinging."

He quoted loggers involved as saying "they knocked men down like kinglypins."

The men in the bus and cars were said by informed sources to be members of the Brotherhood of Newfoundland Woodsworkers (Ind.), a union promoted by Premier Smallwood. They were reported to have taken no part in the fracas.

MAY FORM VIGILANTES
Mr. Curtis said the incident might lead the government to accepting offers "of hundreds of men in the Grand Falls area to form a special police force to suppress all further violence and gangsterism."

Inspector E. H. Stevenson, chief of the RCMP criminal investigation branch in Newfoundland, said RCMP dispersed loggers blocking highways twice Monday. They were "well-behaved and moved promptly off the road," he said.

In Ottawa Tuesday Justice Minister Fulton said the RCMP has acted only in accordance with its responsibility to prevent disorders and keep open communications. He said the RCMP has not "escorted anyone through picket lines."

Meanwhile, Education Minister F. W. Rowe told the Newfoundland legislature Tuesday he would be prepared to fight a provincial election on the Liberal government's stand in the current loggers' dispute.

"If I had to and lost," he said, "I would know that I had done so in a good cause."

Dr. Rowe criticized the CBC, mainland newspapers and leaders of government for taking "a completely distorted view" of the dispute which arose from their "ignorance of the facts."

Dr. Rowe said the basic issue in the dispute between the Newfoundland government and the IWA is whether or not the provincial economy will be "sacrificed on the altar of gangster unionism."

NEEDED SMALLWOOD

Dr. Rowe said producers of the CBC television program Closeup allowed a reporter to "needle" Premier Smallwood in an "insulting, disgusting and patronizing manner" during an interview in which the premier had been asked to explain the government's intervention in the strike.

He called upon directors of the CBC to take a look at the Closeup program to see whether it had been fair.

approach" to the oil problem as it relates to national defence. Except for this, there was no concession to a Canadian note of protest Feb. 19.

Venezuela, a major American oil supplier, was mentioned along with Canada in Eisenhower's order in this way:

"The United States recognizes, of course, that within the larger sphere of world security, we, in common with Canada and with the other American republics, have a joint interest in hemisphere defence."

"Informal conversations with Canada and Venezuela looking toward a co-ordinated approach to the problem of oil as it relates to this matter of common concern have already begun."

"The United States is hopeful that in the course of future conversations, agreement can be reached which will take fully into account the interests of all oil-producing states."

Eisenhower Rules Out Ground War

WASHINGTON (AP)

President Eisenhower said today the United States has no intention of fighting a ground war in Europe.

At a press conference, however he declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event a war starts.

He said firmly the United States will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

His government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time, he said, the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower was asked for his reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal for a four-power guard in West Berlin.

The president replied with some asperity that he doesn't ever expect to be in the business of reacting instantly to one of Khrushchev's wise-cracks or whatever he calls them.

Civil Service Raises Run From $200 to $12

Salary boosts ranging from $200 a month for deputy ministers to $12 a month for junior clerks are included in a schedule of $3,000,000 over-all increases accepted today by the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

"We have accepted the money—the money is no longer an issue," said general secretary of the BCGEA Edward O'Connor this morning.

Mr. O'Connor met with Civil Service Commission chairman Dr. H. M. Morrison this morning to examine the recommended schedule of wage increases which will go into effect April 1 this year.

Also granted are raises for 156 steam engineers, retroactive to April 1 last year. Informed that Provincial Tuesday that the engineers are expected to get retroactive pay in their May cheques, Mr. O'Connor said, "If he's done that, that's the end of the engineer's strike."

They were scheduled to walk out at 7 a.m. Thursday. The wage boosts which will be implemented affect some 14,000 civil servants in 851 job classifications. About 2,800 of the civil servants are in Victoria.

The increases were worked out in conjunction with a BCGEA committee last year and are based on achieving parity with rates paid workers in private industry at that time.

Here are selected examples of the effect of the wage increases on government employees:

Deputy ministers get $200 more bringing their salary to $1,200 a month; 962 psychiatric aides go from $220 to $243 as a starting salary and their maximum is upped from $260 to $286; 515 psychiatric nurses have their starting rate increased from $250 to $270 and their maximum earnings boosted from $300 to $324.

A total of 366 grade two stenographers go from $195 to $211 and their maximums from $235 to $254; 401 grade one clerks go from $185 to $200 in the starting range and $225 to $243 maximum; 238 clerks go from $324 to $389 as a new salary range where they started before at $300 and rose to $360. New scale for public health nurses ranges between $324 and $389 instead of $290 to $345. Two chaplains serving in government institutions are raised from $440 to $490, maximum. The 181 janitors in the civil service will get a boost of from $235 to $254.

The only two civil servants whose salaries are unchanged in the new scale are two shoemakers who remain at $315. They were granted an increase last year.

Grade two clerks will range from $243 to $297 instead of $225 to $275. Grade three clerks go from $252 to $346 instead of $270 to $320. Senior

Humane Slaughter Legislation Nearer

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—The tough issue of laws on humane slaughter of food animals has gone to the Commons agriculture committee for solution with a clear indication from Justice Minister Fulton that the government favors federal regulation and inspection.

Mr. Fulton Tuesday gave the opinion that criminal laws on humane killing—laws administered by the provinces—are not sound. He favored firm enforcement through a federal agency.

Support from both opposition groups was given to his proposal that the agriculture committee study the question and recommend a law.

Before the Commons agreed to give the committee the job of recommending a law, two members raised the question of extending humane slaughter to killing of other animals, including poultry and fur-bearers.

The humane slaughter question was one of a wide variety of subjects discussed.

Trade Minister Churchill announced sale of 5,490,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to Poland under credit terms extended by the government's export credits insurance corporation. He also announced negotiations to sell 4,590,000 bushels of barley to Poland.

Northern Affairs Minister Hamilton announced sale of oil and gas exploration leases on 3,546,829 acres in the North-west Territories and the Yukon for $6,500,000.

A total of 51 miles of the highway, expected to be paved by August, the government said in a return for CCF House leader Hazen Argue.

The highway, opened for traffic November 20, 1942, is 1,517 miles long, running from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska, with 1,221.4 miles in British Columbia and the Yukon.

The preliminary engineering work on paving the highway, starting at Dawson Creek, began August 26, 1957. The paving schedule calls for 85 miles to be paved by the end of 1960, the last 34 due for next year.

Iraq Policy 'Hostile' To U.A.R.

CAIRO (Reuters)—President Nasser today accused Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassam of following a "hostile policy" toward the United Arab Republic.

Making his first personal attack on the Iraq leader, Nasser told crowds in Damascus, Syria:

"He organized demonstrations against us trying to divide the United Arab Republic. But he will fail."

Nasser accused Iraq Communists of being stooges of foreign Communist parties.

"They are not working for the benefit of their country—they are working for foreigners," Nasser said.

Iraqi Rebels Facing Purge

LONDON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources here today predicted a major purge of the Iraqi army and the government to remove all potential opponents of Premier Abdul Karim Kassam, including anti-Communists and Nasserites.

They said pressure also was building up in Baghdad for the speedy execution of Gen. Abdul Salam Aref, former number two man in the Kassam regime now under sentence of death for plotting against the premier.

Reports from Iraq said anti-government bitterness by army field commanders in the provinces was a major factor in the current revolt. They said the commanders were jealous of the quick promotions given officers closer to the capital and in the personal confidence of Kassam.

In addition, the reports said, the field commanders disapproved of the government's failure to co-operate with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The already strained relations between Iraq and the U.A.R. were expected to deteriorate still further in the wake of Tuesday's expulsion of the bulk of the U.A.R. diplomats from Iraq.

Provision for Fishboat Loans Wider

Among other business, the Commons also:

1. Gave final approval to changes to the Fisheries Loans Improvement Act, widening provisions defining those who may receive such loans to include persons who once had an interest in a fishing vessel and persons interested in acquiring such an interest. This proposal originated with a private member, Lloyd R. Crouse (PC, Queens-Lunenburg), and was adopted by the government.

2. Debated without decision the proposal of Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena) that voters absent from their constituency on election day be permitted to vote at the nearest polling place in their home province or any province immediately adjacent.

3. Approved the proposal of Prime Minister Diefenbaker that the Canada Council's 1957-58 report be studied by the public accounts committee. Douglas Fisher (CCF, Port Arthur) suggested in debating this that council scholarships are not all awarded on merit. In the Senate, Arthur Roebuck said—the Progressive Conservative government is dealing in "funny money." If it keeps this up, warned the Ontario Liberal, it will ruin the country's currency. ## The First Easter

BY PETER MARSHALL

Beautifully told in moving prose, here is the full poignant story of Christ's last days on earth. In words which make it seem as though they happened yesterday, Peter Marshall tells of the last supper, Christ's agony in the garden, Peter's denial, the trial before Pilate and the Crucifixion. In three superbly illustrated episodes in this week's Star Weekly, you can read this story which has inspired men for nearly 2000 years.

WHAT'S NEW IN BOATS FOR '59? With more and more of us succumbing to the lure of the water, you'll want to know everything about the '59 boats. In this week's Star Weekly the 16 page color section gives you a complete roundup of the boating delights in store for you this summer.

HERE'S THE SECRET! Exclusive new Fountain-Ball is honeycombed!

Ordinary ball points are solid and slippery so ink merely rolls over surface, leaving a thin, watery line. But Eversharp's Fountain-Ball is honeycombed with millions of tiny ink channels that feed ink through as well as around the ball. Ink clings to paper, giving darker, denser writing—with richness and shading—like a fountain pen!

Pensions Within Our Means

ONE OF THE OBVIOUS CONCLUSIONS reached by Prof. Robert M. Clark in his study of the United States' national pension scheme is that Canada cannot equal the United States in the size of pensions paid to elderly citizens.

This is not a matter of whim or political policy, but the natural outcome of the difference in the per capita wealth of the two countries. It is foolish to assume that because our neighbor can establish a certain level of payments to the aged, it is feasible to equal it here.

The Canadian old age pension, financed from taxes, pays $55 a month at age 70 to every qualified resident of Canada. Some provinces, including British Columbia, add to this. The U.S. system, financed by contributions from employers, employees and self-employed persons, may pay as much as $127 a month, although the average for men is about 70 per cent of this and for women, about half.

It might be possible for Canada to match the U.S. maximum, but only at the expense of other things that are equally needed, and unmanageable costs could be the result. Even as it is, this country spends more on social security, both on the basis of per capita cost and percentage of the gross national product, than either Britain or the United States.

The present situation is far from satisfactory. While certain tax revenues are earmarked for the national pension fund they are not nearly sufficient for the purpose and further large sums must be taken from general revenue. The pension plan is thus not self-supporting and its demands help to push the current federal deficit beyond the billion-dollar mark.

Another unsatisfactory aspect is the erosion of pension benefits through inflation. Mr. Pearson claimed in Parliament that the continuing depreciation in the value of the dollar had deprived pensioners of $2 out of the $9 increase they received from the Conservative Government. This steady loss of value presents a problem which has not yet been solved.

The Canadian scheme contains another weakness which is pointed out by Prof. Clark and appears to have gained Mr. Diefenbaker's interest. Because the public contributes to the pension fund through taxes—even though part of the revenue is from a percentage specified for old age pensions—there is little direct connection in the public mind between costs and benefits.

The urge is always for increased pension payments, without adequate recognition that these must be paid for by the income-earning portion of the population. If the pension fund were supplied through a direct levy which recognizably increased with each increase in pension payments, there would be a better public understanding of the situation and less inclination to "let the Government pay" for it all.

Prof. Clark has made no recommendations as a result of his year-long study of the United States system. Such were not within his terms of reference. But he has provided a lengthy and detailed analysis of our neighbor's program and there may be aspects of it which could be applied to the Canadian plan with advantage.

Strong Man for BCPC

PREMIER BENNETT HAS chosen a man of international eminence to head the British Columbia Power Commission and the people of this province are fortunate that so distinguished a person has accepted the appointment.

Dr. Hugh Keenleyside's reputation and record virtually guarantee leadership in public power that will be uninfluenced by forces which might be brought to bear on someone less distinguished. Such strength is essential at a time when power development is emerging as the core of politics and the contest between public and private interests is reaching new proportions.

After his careers and adventures in many parts of the world as a leading Canadian figure in international negotiations and as a servant of the United Nations, Dr. Keenleyside has apparently decided to return to the home of his boyhood.

It is a fortuitous decision which brings his talents to a field where the demand for ability is so great.

The Right to Strike

MR. COLIN CAMERON HAS used an historic English labor case to draw an analogy between court action taken against a union more than half a century ago and the labor legislation now before the British Columbia House. The analogy has one critical fault. It is drawn out of all perspective.

Mr. Cameron, in a letter to this newspaper, cited the instance of the Taff Vale Railway Company dispute of 1900. He argues that litigation and a judgment against the railway employees arising from a strike was so costly that it destroyed the union and stimulated the development of the Labor Party.

"Premier Bennett has just introduced legislation which will have precisely the same effect," says Mr. Cameron. "It will take from the unions their only real weapon, the right to strike."

Even Mr. Cameron's persuasive abilities will not convince the public that labor at the turn of the century enjoyed anything like the strength or status it enjoys now. Nor has he grounds on which to argue that labor, by the British Columbia bill, is denied the use of its weapon, the legal strike.

Here the right to strike legally is protected and the union, once it makes a bargain, is given safeguards against any employer's inclination to break it. No union obeying the law can be penalized.

Mr. Cameron's political motives are obvious. The gentleman who has represented the CCF in both the provincial legislature and in Parliament, is trying to draw all labor into the party of his choice. That is a perfectly honorable intent. But Mr. Cameron should stick to facts, instead of bending them to political purpose.

Liberalizing Compensation

IN CERTAIN RESPECTS amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act at the current session provide further vindication for Mrs. Zucco, who camped on the Government's doorstep seeking redress for her husband, a silicosis victim.

The definition of the disease has been improved and the right of the individual suffering from it to make a claim has been established even when other factors are involved.

But the amendments go much further than that. They give to the board greater flexibility in the consideration of cases and in applying compensation to industries and industrial diseases not hitherto included.

Greater coverage is set out for compensable cases and a more liberal attitude is adopted toward those suffering from occupational injury or illness.

Widows' pensions are raised from $75 to $90 a month, the highest in Canada. Children's allowances are increased from $25 to $35 and comparable increases are given for orphans and other dependents. Beyond that compensation covers workmen earning up to $5,000 a year where it formerly covered only those earning up to $4,000.

The establishment of a new appeal system is promising and should result in a reduction of the discontent and heartbreak which have accompanied appeals on frequent earlier occasions.

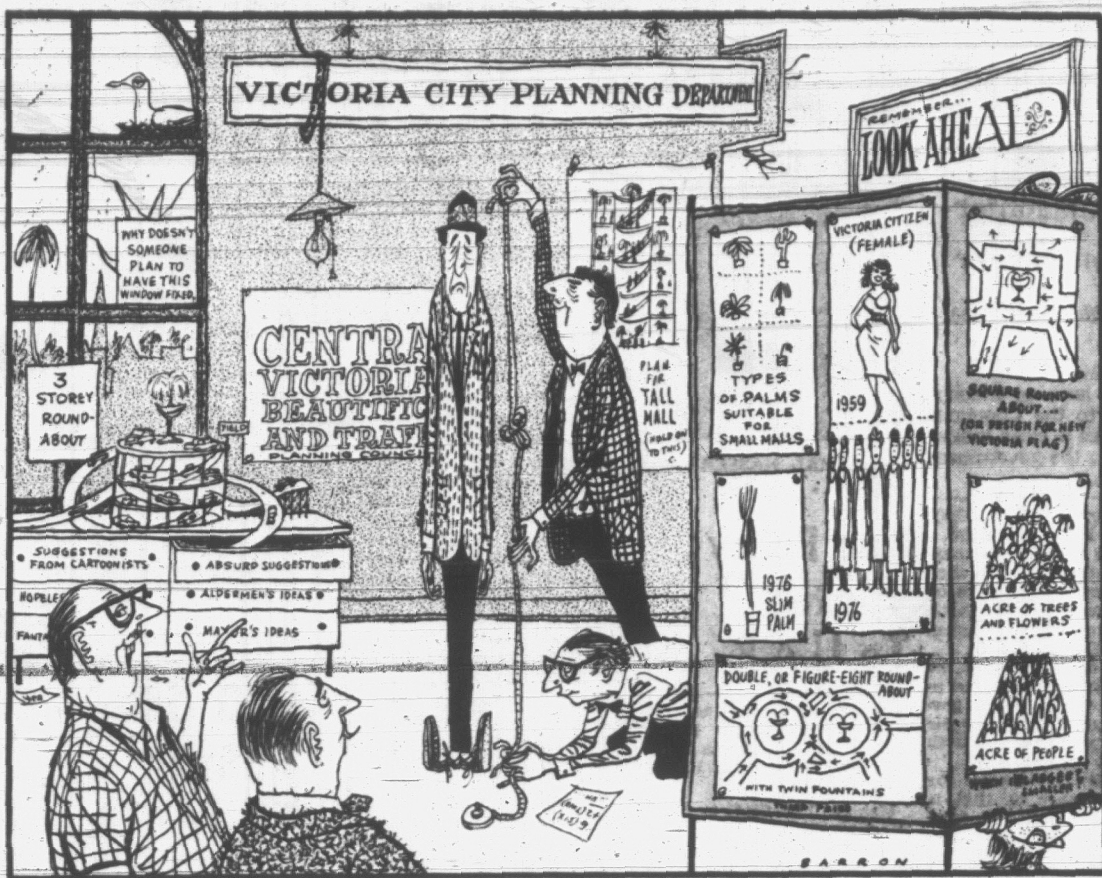

It is no secret that changes in the act were overdue. It is encouraging to note the alterations which have been made, generally on the side of humanity.

And it is gratifying to see a recognition of the fact that in such matters the Government is matching a growing social consciousness on the part of the public.

Lost in the Abattoir?

LAST YEAR A HUMANE slaughter bill was withdrawn from Parliament with the explanation that a better plan was on the way and would soon be presented.

Now the whole issue has been referred to the committee on agriculture. How long must Canada wait for a humane slaughter law?

"Vancouver type ... emaciated, smog-ridden, y'know ... we're studying the effects of overcrowding ... planning for 1976 when we have 195,000 here ..."

SOME TIMELY THOUGHTS

Trying to Keep Ahead of Yesterday

PROBABLY no other era in history has had such a reverence for time as ours has, yet certainly in no other period has time been treated as we treat it. Time rules our lives. We wear its fetter of servitude on our wrists and hardly an hour goes by that we do not remind ourselves by a glance that time is flying and we must keep up with it. Yet in other ways we have treated time with contempt; we have almost eliminated it as a factor in journeys to here and there, and every day brings forth some new method or technique by which we can cut down on it.

No slave ever treated a master in this way. And perhaps our mixed-up approach to time is responsible for much of our mixed-up outlook these days.

Endless Question

Down through the ages, one of man's most important preoccupations has been the measurement of time. The length of day and night was settled for us, and so were the seasons. But after a while we began to measure time by the moon as well. After we began to break up the day into hours we found we'd taken a big jump ahead in putting ourselves into bondage. It must have been around this period of history that the question "What time is it?" came into vogue. It has never gone out.

Cutting the hour up into minutes was just a refinement that probably couldn't have been avoided. But it gave us 60 times as much time to worry about, and when seconds were invented the fetters were on us for good.

With these fiendish inventions came bus schedules, soft-boiled eggs, school bells, synchronized traffic lights, seven-minute airline stopovers in Albuquerque, missed trains, morning dental appointments and service club luncheon speeches.

All such developments have time as their basis—time divided up, measured, numbered and doled out—time turned on and off like molasses from a barrel; time shot like a bullet or dragged like a corpse.

All these things we could do to time, once we had divided and calibrated it. Aha, we thought, we have mastered time, we can chop it to pieces and use it as we will. But all the time we were fooling ourselves.

Each chunk of time we chopped off from eternity and measured with our watches and clocks became a brick in the structure of time which walls us in. Man built a prison for himself even while he thought he was breaking out.

Look at mankind today. We rise by a timed alarm which notifies us that we will have to hurry or we'll be late. We hurry, to dress and wash and eat, to get to work, to do the work, to hurry home, to eat, to "spend" time in one way or another and then hurry to bed because it's getting late. We have run out of time for that day, and must try to go faster tomorrow.

Tick by Tock

And at each stage throughout the day we have kept one eye on the time-measuring devices that surround us. The watches, on wrist and in pocket, the wall clocks, street clocks, tower clocks, the whistles and guns, the slanting sun's rays, the radio and television announcements, the constant comments of one man to another on the passage of time—all these keep us in slavery. Like the sorcerer's apprentice, we have been overcome by our own machinations.

You'd think we would be satisfied to leave it at this point. You'd think that breaking the minute-down into seconds would have chopped time into small enough segments. Already too many of them slip by without notice or use. Having ground our gold bars into dust, we've been very careless about losing the dust.

But no, it wasn't enough. We have worked ceaselessly at breaking time down into even more minute fragments. Special clocks have been devised to measure time in tenths, hundredths, thousandths of a second. And now we have the atom clocks which count off even tinier particles of the precious stuff.

Faster, Faster

Having achieved this, are we going to try to keep up with the speeding dust? Will obsession with time's smallest particles creep out of the laboratories and enter our lives, so that some day we'll be muttering "17 and 891 ten-thousandths of a second—past the hour, I'll never make it!" as we dash along in our rocket cars?

Nor are we likely to stop at that. The day will come when man will take to space in vehicles that approach the speed of light—the point at which time slows down and eventually stands still. Then we'll really have mastered time—we'll have eliminated it, stopped it running, held it stationary like a wild horse finally caught in a corral.

Then we'll be the victors, eh? But wait, if time stands still we must too. We shall have built an even stronger prison wall around ourselves. We'll have to stand beside our captive, unable to grow older, unable to go forward until we allow it to go forward, chained endlessly in a void of eternity that can neither come nor go.

Then at last we'll be face to face with the big decision. We'll have to slow down at least a little in order to have time at all. Perhaps the idea could be applied—just a little—even now.

Ten Kopeks To Return

By MICHAEL FRAYN

MOSCOW—This is a city which needs to be seen to be believed, as much as for any other reason. "Why do they have such high walls round the Kremlin, Mummy?" the Moscow child is supposed to ask his mother. "To keep the robbers in, dear," replies mother. "The really intelligent mother might say, however, 'To keep the Soviet architects out.'"

For the Kremlin, with its three onion-domed cathedrals, is almost the only relic of roaring old Moscow—and almost the only object left in the city which it is not painful to look at.

With a population of some eight millions, Moscow is one of the world's great capitals. Was there ever another capital so blindingly ugly, so devoid of taste or style, and so dull?

The best bits are probably the slums around Novol Alekseyevskaya Street—old timber houses of one and two stories leaning drunkenly in the snow and due for clearance if they do not fall down of their own accord first. But the majority of the city's housing consists of apartment blocks of indeterminate age.

Everywhere the paint is coming off the window frames and the window frames off the hinges. Inside there are often two families to a room, communal kitchens, and no baths.

Housing Problems

The housing problems have always been a millstone round the Muscovite's neck. But things have got noticeably better the last few years—conservative sources reckon that three out of ten families have been rehoused since 1956.

The skyscraper blocks of flats lined with marble and speckled with steeples to which Soviet architecture sank a few years ago (dragging with it human taste to what must be its lowest watermark ever) were found to be too expensive—to the resounding credit of Soviet accountants, and the authorities have now switched to building enormous apartment blocks which are free of any evidence of design whatsoever.

These have sprung up fastest and thickest in the southwestern district of the city, the so-called "New Moscow." Here the uniform blocks, built in a curiously depressing grey brick, stretch as far as the eye can see; and the forest of power cranes is still at work.

It is an odd experience seeing slums actually being built in front of one's eyes. But inside they are light and equipped with bathroom, lavatory, and kitchen, which probably counts for more than setting with the Muscovites.

In the centre the buildings are all marble magnificence. But the true Moscow lies farther out. A good way to see it is to take a stroll along the rather slummy Baumanskaya Street.

In the scruffy "dietary dining rooms" here you can buy about five roubles' worth of meal tickets from the cashier, exchange them at the self-service counter for a sloshy meal and eat alongside men in suits and ties.

Illegal Drink

Farther down the road is a beer shop. Here everyone is in fur hats and felt boots, drinking beer and eating bread and cheese. A sign on the wall says: "It is forbidden to bring and consume spirits." A man buys a paper cup of cherry juice with his beer, empties it into the ash tray, and fills it from a half-bottle of vodka which he takes out from under his coat.

In the corner two very drunken men are holding one another up, kissing each other's cheeks, and explaining to anyone who will listen, "We haven't seen one another for 23 years."

There are far fewer drunks on the streets now than there were two years ago and the swarms of beggars who used to shove the raw stump of their amputated arms in your face have disappeared. There is far more traffic on the wide streets, too.

There are still peasants up from the country for a few days and their appearance has changed very little since the last century.

There is something about Moscow which grips one in spite of all the seaminess of the place. Perhaps it is just the unforgettable smell of Russia. A combination, it seems, of stale pagliosi smoke, sweat, pickled cucumber, and cheap scent which goes wherever Soviet rule extends—to Russia's embassies abroad, even to her aircraft.

Still Slavonic

Perhaps it is the spirit of the people still profoundly Slavonic which bursts forth in the supreme brio of the ballet dancers at the Bolshoi and in the intense humanness of the thousands of Muscovites, many of them old and bent, who pack the churches every Sunday to chant the Orthodox mass and bow their foreheads to the ground, rapt in the service, surrendering all hope of any high station in life simply by being there.

Anyway, whatever it is, Moscow has plenty of admirers. There is a fountain in Sverdlovsk Square in front of the Bolshoi Theatre into which people throw coins and wish that they may come back to Moscow. Now the fountain is silent and choked with snow, but in summer the water is full of 10-kopek pieces. Anyone who is prepared to pay 10 kopeks for the privilege of returning to Moscow must think something of the place.

TIME FOR SILENCE

In politics there are times for silence, just as much as there are times for speech. While there are occasions when men require the proclamation of a common faith, there are others when it is only in the silence of theory that new common actions, and so eventually new common thoughts, can start to grow. We are living now in such a twilight. The price of human survival is that we all must sacrifice at least part of our political ideas; but these ideas are so fixed and comprehensive that we cannot make concessions or argue our way out of them to something new.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Ready to Help

Through the channels of your valuable paper I would like to add my appeal to my countrymen to assist in contributing to the necessary $410,000 to build the addition to the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

I get $10 per month as a social assistance patient, thanks to the Community Chest. I have been in bed eight years. I trained in the hospital. I am proud to say, and I will gladly give $200. You, who can, match it and we will soon have the 190-bed addition. Let us do it fast. They need it.

HAZEL M. RUSSELL, RN (R), Room 10, Women's Medical, Royal Jubilee Hospital.

For Joey

I have been reading the editorials in The Times ever since coming to Victoria, more than six years ago, and heartily agreed with the sentiments expressed in most of them.

However, I may say that I take very strong exception to the one in Friday's paper entitled "The Boss of Newfoundland." One would almost think it was written by a union leader.

I cannot agree with the way you criticized Mr. Smallwood, who was trying to do something which should have been done, long ago, by both federal and provincial governments in Canada.

If many of the unions, controlled and dictated to by leaders in a foreign country, were never allowed to get a foothold in Canada we would not have so many idle men walking the streets today.

Although I have never voted for the Social Credit Party, I would like to commend the B.C. Government for taking steps in the right direction to curb the unions in B.C., at least in a small measure.

A. J. MACDONALD, Dryle Street.

Salacious Literature

A resolution by Alberta MLA, Mrs. Rose Wilkinson, to adopt stricter laws against crime comics, and salacious literature is especially welcome in view of an alarming upswing in juvenile delinquency and illegitimate births among our teenagers.

Whether such a motion will encourage some inspired positive action on the part of those directly concerned remains to be seen. In the past similar proposals from various constituents have achieved only a superficial victory; the redeeming feature, if it can be termed such, was the prohibiting of the more shocking-type comic books.

These slight revisions, however, have accomplished little in altering the basic problem; that being the effect such publications have on the moral character of our youth. To suppress one class of offensive material only to allow the propagation of others equally iniquitous, is illogical, serving no tangible purpose.

U.S. Domination

As a younger Canadian, moving back and forth across the country, I see more and more evidence that I may yet live to see my country engulfed by the United States.

This is happening in more ways than one. An outstanding example was the turning over of the Canadian National Montreal Hotel-Queen Elizabeth to be operated by the Hilton chain. The indication being that nobody in this country was capable of the task though it is interesting to note that Canadian Pacific have produced a larger hotel, the Royal York at Toronto, which is not only decorated in the Canadian motif but is run by Canadians.

Now I have discovered in all the CNR hotels a brochure on the Queen Elizabeth which gives one to believe that it is just one of the Hilton chain. This brochure, presumably produced at the taxpayers' expense, advertises Hilton hotels in South America and Egypt.

Perhaps this is an example of the government's "Make a Job—Do it Now" campaign—but it doesn't make me too happy as I fill out my income tax forms.

Friendly Volcanoes

NEW YORK — The volcano is a much-maligned friend of man.

So says Edgar Aubert de la Rue, an authority on volcanology, who says in the current issue of the UNESCO Courier that comparatively few volcanoes are dangerous and many are merely good neighbors.

Listing the good qualities of these good neighbors, M. de la Rue points out that they have raised up mountains on the continental land masses that cause rainfall, which would otherwise be scanty.

"The greatest benefit from volcanoes, however, has been the fertilizing effect of lava and volcanic ash," he said.

"The fertility accounts for the amazing density of population in the neighborhood of many active craters," said M. de la Rue writing in the monthly publication of the UN Educational and Scientific Organization. "Forgetful of past catastrophes and heedless of the dangers that still threaten them, farmers have settled in large numbers around Etna and Vesuvius and volcanoes in central America, Indonesia, the Philippines and Japan."

"The slopes of Vesuvius and Etna, famous for their vineyards and orchards, are not the only volcanic sites thus sought after; the sides of volcanoes in central America, covered with rich coffee plantations, and those of Java, the Philippines and Japan are equally coveted."

Other benefits from volcanoes include raw materials such as sulphur and pumice which is widely used as an industrial product and as a building stone. The author notes that the town of Lamacunga in the Andes and the huge dome of the Cathedral of St. Sophia in Istanbul are built of pumice.

The supply of carbon-dioxide in the atmosphere, without which plants would die, is increased by volcanoes. In addition they also enrich soils far away through volcanic ash which is carried by air currents.

But of potentially far greater importance is the energy locked up within the world's 500-odd active volcanoes which are now beginning to be tapped.

"Today, the remarkable achievements in Iceland and Italy are serving as a spur to the harnessing of geothermal power for use in industry," said the article. "In a few years time other countries, particularly those with few other sources of natural power, are likely to be drawing more and more on the inexhaustible power offered by volcanoes."

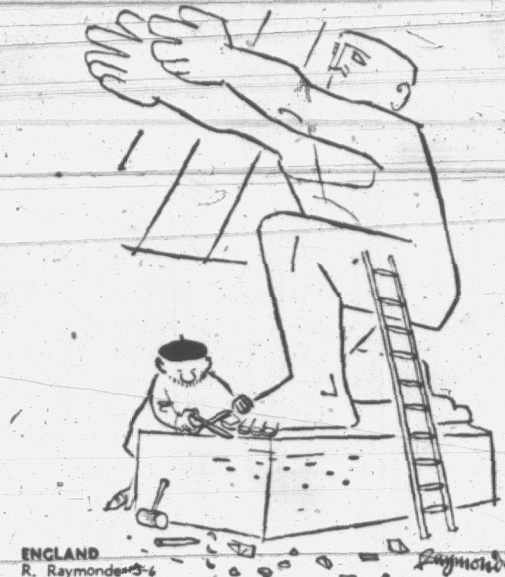

The author notes that "ideas which not long ago appeared Utopian are now becoming facts." He notes that Italian engineers are now drilling down to a depth of nearly 2,000 feet where the super-heated vapor is captured and directed through reinforced pipes to steam generating stations producing some 300,000 kilowatts of electricity. In addition gases are used as a source of baron, carbon-dioxide, ammonia and various other industrial gases.

Icelanders, who live on the top of an ocean-bed volcano, pipe volcanically-heated hot water into their homes, even in isolated villages. Public swimming pools and wash-houses are also supplied from the hot springs. The springs also heat greenhouses which produce fruits, vegetables and flowers despite the cold climate.

M. de la Rue, although a dedicated volcano-lover, concedes that they can bring almost unimaginable disaster. He recalls the explosion of Tambora on Sumbawa Island in 1815 which claimed 50,000 victims, the eruption of Krakatoa in the Strait of Sunda which caused 36,000 deaths in 1883 and, of course, Pelee which destroyed St. Pierre on the Island Martinique and its 28,000 inhabitants.

But these disasters are the exceptions, he says, and he predicts that in future the world will gain increasing benefits from the (usually) friendly, loveable, old volcanoes.

Juvenile Welfare 'Impossible' Task

Strong criticism of the juvenile delinquent rehabilitation system here was voiced Tuesday night by B. C. Gillie, principal of S. J. Willis Junior High School.

Mr. Gillie told a Craigflower PTA meeting that juvenile offenders are expected to be the "impossible" with a hopelessly under-manned staff.

A member of a Community Welfare Council committee which studied delinquency, he said higher pay and separation of jobs of probation and juvenile officers was needed.

"It is idiotic to think they do much of a job when they have to apprehend the juvenile and then try to establish a relationship to help the youth," he said. "I wouldn't have their jobs at triple the pay."

OTTAWA (UPI) — Federal civil servants have a "fear of God" of publicity.

This observation was made today by Auditor-General Watson Sellar to the opening meeting of the often-controversial public accounts committee. The committee was studying his 1958 report.

Asked repeatedly by committee members how they could most effectively fulfill their watchdog function, Sellar stressed the power of publicity the committee holds. Publicity, he said flatly, was "the most effective weapon" anyone could have in dealing with the civil service.

"Every civil servant lives in fear in this regard," the auditor-general told the committee. "All you have to do is enter a department and say you're going to report something and it has an effect."

"TOO STRONG" When Frank McGee (PC, York, Scarborough) protested that "fear" was too strong a word to describe the feelings of civil servants towards the committee, Sellar said the member of Parliament was understating the committee's power.

"Civil servants just dread publicity, adverse or not," he said. "You have no power to disallow any payment made or action taken, but you can accomplish your end by putting the fear of God into civil servants through publicity."

Mr. K. Purposely Vague

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every few days Soviet Premier Khrushchev comes up with a new proposal for dealing with the Berlin crisis.

His record is impressive for imagination but sometimes he seems to contradict himself.

In the midst of the confusion, which he may deliberately seek in order to obscure the real issues, one fact stands out clearly. He still is pursuing his original purpose to try to force the Western powers to give up their position in West Berlin.

West Berlin is an irritant. He may be willing to risk war to remove it.

SEE PUSH TO BRINK

In the ultimate showdown, most Western officials are convinced Khrushchev will pull back before plunging the world into war. But they also think he will go close to the brink if he has to in order to test Western determination to hold fast.

Khrushchev's latest manoeuvre came in a speech at Berlin, Monday. He said then that the Western powers might keep small garrisons of their forces in West Berlin if they agreed to make that city a "free city" and if a Soviet garrison also was stationed there.

This suggestion seemed to reverse the line he had taken in a note to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, November 27, when he first made his free city proposition and talked about demilitarizing West Berlin.

As a result of diplomatic exchanges, there now is conditional agreement on an early foreign ministers conference—probably in May—to deal with German problems.

WINNING SUMMIT MEET

There also is the prospect of a summit meeting later in the year.

You Can Depend On

When kidneys fail to remove excess acids and wastes, backache, tired feeling, disturbed rest often follow. Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate kidneys to normal duty. You feel better—sleep better, work better. You can depend on Dodd's. Get Dodd's today at your drugstore.

Many Western officials say Khrushchev seems to be aiming not only at destroying Western protection for Berlin but also at bringing it eventually under Communist rule.

But some experts feel Khrushchev may have alternative goals of winning Western recognition of the East German regime, forcing a summit conference, trying to compel the West to endorse Communist regimes throughout Eastern Europe or—an outside possibility—finding some way to negotiate German reunification on terms acceptable to the Soviet Union.

Oh! Oh!

LONDON—Although the English daily newspapers are commonly accused of distorting the news to fit in with their political or other views, the same certainly can't be said of that other "daily"—Hansard.

This day-by-day report of proceedings in Parliament, which has celebrated its 50th year of publication, bends over backwards to achieve objectivity, to avoid any possible accusation of comment creeping into its reports.

The single word "Oh!" is as far as Hansard will ever go in describing the House of Commons in an uproar.

If something a member says produces shouts across the floor of the House expressing all sorts of sentiments, such as disgust, approval, disbelief and ridicule, Hansard stresses its impartiality by describing the fracas with the mere item: Hon. members: "Oh!"

Though the primary concern of Hansard is to report verbatim everything the members say, it is felt that rather than try to get down all the shouted remarks when the House is in turmoil and thus be liable to favor one view or the other, it's safer to cover it all with "Oh!" and let the reader extract his own meanings.

Hansard, which prints at 3 each morning the House in session and has a circulation of 6,000, is served by 20 shorthand reporters, all of whom must be able to do 200 or better words a minute. Average rate of speaking of British MPs is 180 a minute and the record a galloping 315 by a member who wanted to have his say before the Speaker imposed the time limit.

So faithful to the facts is Hansard that it never fixes up members' howlers before going to press. Two recent examples: "It's as clear as day that it's all moonshine," and "every single woman wants to have a baby." But in the rush to get printed on time, Hansard has dropped its own bricks. It has had a member speaking of "guilt-edged securities" and referred to a character named "Pontius Pilot."

Chided about using "Oh!" as the "utility word to cover any sort of uproar in the House, Hansard's editor said there might be a situation in which they would vary this old standby. If a modern Guy Fawkes managed to blow up the Houses of Parliament and the Hansard reporter survived, it would be reported as:

Interruption.

How to Multiply Fuchsias

Many plants which are usually propagated by means of cuttings in late summer or early fall may also be increased now by the same method. If, for instance, you wish to fill a long planter with fuchsias and have only a half dozen new plants, you should take cuttings right away and get them rooted quickly.

Make the cuttings four or five inches long, and dibble them around the edge of a 3½-inch pot of sandy soil. Soak the pot, drain, and place it in a polythene bag, gathering up the open top together tightly with an elastic band. The pot may be placed in the sun for part of the day, but should always be in a fairly warm place, say not below 55-60 deg. F.

The polythene allows air in, but prevents moisture from escaping. No attention will be needed until rooting has taken place, which may be within 10 days. Pot up singly in three-inch pots, and shift into five-inch as soon as roots reach the sides of the three-inch size. Pinching out the growing centre will induce branching.

If an increase of geraniums is required, the tops of young plants may be taken now, as well as short growths from old plants wintered indoors. There is an important point in the treatment for cuttings of geraniums. Before inserting them into the rooting mixture of sandy soil, the cut ends should lie in the sun for a couple of hours to dry.

Once inserted, the sandy mixture should be lightly moistened, and the container of cuttings stood in a light place.

No covering should be used, and watering must be kept to a minimum. Pot up the cuttings individually as soon as rooted, and give them plenty of light and space for growing quickly.

The fuchsias will require quantities of water once roots begin to fill the five-inch pots, but the geraniums will be better for moderate watering while they are in pots.

'Somebody Slipped Up' —And Man Shot Himself

(From CP Dispatch)

PRINCE RUPERT—Coroner George J. Dawes told a coroner's jury here that someone "slipped up" in failing to dispatch help to an isolated lighthouse sooner. As a result, a despondent assistant lighthouse keeper shot himself to death.

Had preparations been made earlier to send police to the lighthouse at Triple Island, coroner Dawes said, 32-year-old Remite Ernest Vargas "might be here today."

N. A. Beketov, district marine agent for the transport department, testified he received a message March 1 from the lighthouse saying Vargas was "mental" but had not realized its seriousness. He received a second call two days later, and the transport department lighthouse tender Alexander Mackenzie was dispatched to the island.

RCMP Const. J. E. Bragg said the tender landed in heavy seas and a 40-mile gale.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A runaway bus crashed through a homeward-bound crowd at one of the city's busiest corners at the height of the rush hour Tuesday, killing two persons and injuring 16 others.

to find Vargas lying dead in the lighthouse basement.

L. M. Clifford, head of the lighthouse staff, said he spent four days and nights trying to prevent Vargas from committing suicide.

BOY, 4, KILLED

CHILLIWACK — Douglas Cook, 4, of Chilliwack was killed here Tuesday when struck by a truck while playing near his home. The truck did not stop, police said.

A companion, Linda Clegg, 4, ran home and told her mother of the accident. The girl said the boy had run out onto the street.

STRIKE OFFICIALLY OFF

VANCOUVER — A threatened strike of 800 nurses in British Columbia hospitals was officially called off Tuesday.

Miss Evelyn Hood, personnel director of the Registered Nurses' Association, said a letter had been received by the association from representatives of the eight hospitals involved undertaking "to sign an agreement based on a conciliation board award."

$10,000 Damages Sought

MONTREAL (CP)—Notice of action against the city of Montreal has been filed here by lawyers for Lord and Lady Shaughnessy as the result of their arrest early last Feb. 8. The amount of damage claimed is $10,000 in each case.

At the time of their arrest Lord Shaughnessy was charged with refusing to pay a taxi fare and Lady Shaughnessy with refusing to move on when ordered by a policeman. The case has twice been called and postponed. It now is due to be heard in municipal court March 18.

The prominent Montreal couple claim they were mistreated by police. Lord Shaughnessy claims he was physically abused and that Lady Shaughnessy was insulted by vile language.

LAWYERS EXPLAINED

Some time after the charges were laid, lawyers for the couple said in a statement that Lord and Lady Shaughnessy had attended a party at a private home and had called a taxi. They said Lord Shaughnessy inadvertently was without the necessary fare and that the taxi driver took them to a police station.

This was about 2.30 in the morning. They were released on bail about 5.30.

Police headquarters inquiry into the Shaughnessy's claims of being mistreated by police followed their Feb. 8 arrest. Assistant Inspector William Minogue declined Monday to say anything about the status of the inquiry on the ground that a matter before the courts is involved.

The couple has another five months in which to formally take the damage action in superior court.

Highway Cost Cut Challenged

Doing All Possible—Gagliardi; MLAs Press for New Projects

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi claimed in the legislature Tuesday night that moving material on highway construction costs less today than it did under the former Coalition government.

He was immediately challenged by CCF leader Robert Strachan, who said this economy was due to improved machinery, not to the Social Credit government.

Mr. Gagliardi insisted his department had done "all possible" to cut down on construction costs, defending estimates for his department.

The minister was urged by members on all sides of the house to improve highways in their respective ridings.

John Tisdale (SC-Saanich) said improvement of the West Saanich road would relieve congestion on the Pat Bay Highway during the tourist season.

Dan Campbell (SC-Comox) called for construction of highways at the north end of Vancouver Island and said he had invited Mr. Gagliardi to accompany him on a visit to Port Alice this summer.

Halifax than from Port Alice to Port Hardy.

Tony Gargrave (CCF-MacKenzie) said people in his riding did not feel they had been "integrated" with the B.C. highway system.

"We feel unloved and unwanted," he declared.

NEEDS PAVING

Mrs. Lois Haggen (CCF-Grand Forks-Greenwood) said of the 26 miles of southern trans-provincial highway running from Grand Forks to Greenwood only nine miles were properly paved.

"This means that 17 miles of this highway need to be reconstructed."

The estimates for the highway department were finally approved at 10:30 p.m., Tuesday.

QUADS DOING WELL

Robin Tries Again

LONDON (Reuters)—Gossip columnists today twittered over a handsome young couple who took the floor at a ball here Tuesday night—Princess Margaret and Robin Douglas-Home.

Douglas-Home, 26-year-old unsuccessful suitor for the hand of Sweden's Princess Margaretha, danced with Margaret for half an hour at the ball in aid of Britain's Royal Ballet.

It was the first time they had had a formal date. Margaret, dressed in a pink off-the-shoulder dress, spent nearly three hours at the ball. During the evening the band played "Spring Is in the Air," a song penned by Douglas-Home a few years ago when he was a cocktail bar pianist.

POLICE POUNCE AS BANDITS TALLY LOOT

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP)—Police Tuesday arrested a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavern owner and said they admitted pulling a $72,000 bank robbery here Monday.

Police said the three were counting the money when they were surprised this morning. All the money was recovered. Four bandits armed with machine-guns and wearing grotesque masks.

NEW FERRIES FOR TRAVELLING PUBLIC

Executive Suites Are Out

There will be no "executive suites" on the new government ferries between Vancouver Island and the mainland, Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi assured the House Tuesday night.

Snowstorm in Alps Kills Six Skiers

BREGENZ, Austria (AP)—Two more skiers were found dead Monday in the Silvretta Alps, raising to six the number of known dead in a snowstorm that raged through the mountains and trapped skiing parties during the weekend.

"These ferries have been designed for the travelling public," Mr. Gagliardi said. "There will be nothing elaborate about them, but for those members of the public who want them there will be private rooms." Mr. Gagliardi was answering CCF leader Robert Strachan who thought the ferries might have "executive suites" for Premier Bennett or other members of the cabinet who travelled in them.

"No nothing of the kind," answered Mr. Gagliardi. "We are simply catering to the public."

The Bounce Test. It's not a new system of weight reducing... just a future Ford owner enjoying the comfort of foam-cushioned seats—standard in Ford but not in competitive cars.

The Squeeze Test. After you've taken this test, you'll really appreciate the extra width of Ford's door openings. We call it "easy-to-get-in-and-out-of-ness."

The Thump Test. He's not knocking on wood—he's finding out if it's true that Ford really has the most complete insulation in its class. Come in and see how very true it is!

Hidden Value. That's the proud Ford owner in the background. His muffler has an aluminum coating to protect it from corrosive exhaust acids... protect him from frequent replacements.

The Grunt 'n' Groan Test. Heavy suitcases? The higher you have to lift 'em, the heavier they seem. Ford's trunk is cut lower so you merely slide luggage in... and save your back.

More Hidden Value. Four thousand miles between oil changes—that's the efficiency record of Ford's oil filter. This standard Ford money-saver costs $11.10 extra on Ford's chief competitor.

Victoria Daily Times Silhouette Contest

No. 4

Silhouette Contest Rules

1. The Silhouette Contest is simple and easy to work. It consists of 48 silhouette drawings of various known persons and 128 pictures. All you have to do is identify the silhouettes, not by name but by placing them with pictures of the people you think are portrayed in the silhouettes. Each person shown in silhouette will be shown by picture but not necessarily on the same day. In addition there will be 48 pictures of other persons who will not be shown in silhouette drawings. Thus you will have 128 pictures from which to make your 48 selections to go with the 48 silhouettes. Keep the 48 left over pictures. They will be needed for the final Silhouette Scramble.
2. The contest starts on Saturday, March 7, 1959. Each day for 48 days one silhouette and two pictures will be printed. After you have paired a silhouette with a picture, paste or in some way fasten the matching pair on a single sheet of paper. All 48 sheets are to be fastened together in order and each sheet should bear your name.
3. The Times will award $750 in cash prizes to the winners. There are no entry fees. The prizes are:
  1. $500
  2. $100
  3. $150
 and four prizes of $25 each.
4. The contest is open to all residents of Vancouver Island with the exception of employees of the Times and Victoria Press Ltd. and members of their families. Not more than one prize will be awarded to any one immediate family.
5. The final silhouette and pictures will appear on Saturday, May 16, and with this set will appear a master score sheet on which you must enter the numbers of your silhouette-picture combinations. Do not send in your entries until all silhouettes and pictures have been published.
6. The contestant getting the greatest number of the 48 regular silhouettes correctly entered is automatically the winner of the first prize. Second highest score gets second prize, and so on.
7. A Silhouette Scramble will be published with Silhouette No. 48. This will consist of a number of silhouettes which are to be identified from the 48 pictures left over from the regular contest. This Silhouette Scramble will be used by the judges ONLY in case of ties. If ties exist in the regular contest, then those contestants making the best scores in the Silhouette Scramble will be declared winners.
8. Address entries to Silhouette Contest, Victoria Daily Times, 2611 Douglas Street, Victoria. All entries must be postmarked not later than Monday, May 25. Entries must be sent with first class postage fully paid, since the Times cannot be responsible for entries delayed because of improper address or insufficient postage, or for any other reason not received at the Times in due time.
9. By entering the contest, the participant agrees to accept the decision of the judges as final.

Farmers Buttonhole Members

OTTAWA (CP)—With prospects of any major success growing dimmer by the hour, members of the 1,000 prairie grain growers banded into smaller groups today to lobby with groups of MP's and senators.

Without closing the door, Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Tuesday the government would provide no early action on the prairie request for $300,000,000 in deficiency payments.

Instead, he said, the administration had plans for a long-range program to stabilize and strengthen the farm economy.

Mr. Diefenbaker said only that deficiency payments would receive the "most continuing consideration."

OBJECTS TO PHRASE

"That continuing consideration phrase didn't give us a reply to our request," said Ole Turnbull, first vice-president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union and delegate chairman.

"We'll be watching the government and keeping our membership informed. In due course, we may give the government 'continuing consideration.'"

Mr. Diefenbaker's program, as outlined Tuesday, would include: a firm stand against tampering with the "magna carta of the West," the low Crownstest freight rates on export grain; a "far-reaching" land conservation program; crop insurance against "climatic" hazards; a big farm credit expansion program, and "appropriate" government action to deal with food price spreads.

As a product of a Saskatchewan homestead, he would not forget "the days of the past." He would keep agriculture "dynamic" as part of national policy. But having said this, he was not approaching the deficiency payments issue with any spirit "of a closed mind." The farmers' request would get "the fullest, most continuing consideration."

OBJECTION NOT ANSWERED

And yet, Mr. Diefenbaker observed, the farmers' petition, signed by 302,200 prairie growers, did not contain an answer to his deficiency payments objections raised last August—that such payments would help the wealthier farmers rather than the poorer ones; that they would bring disparity in earnings in various western areas; that they would impede farm technological change; and that they might bring United States retaliation against imports of Canadian oats and barley.

Mr. Jack Wesson, presenting the delegation brief, said in reply to Mr. Diefenbaker, that all the things planned by the government would be beneficial, but grain farmers might go broke before these plans materialized.

Later, in an interview, the veteran president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, who led a 1942 "march" on Ottawa, said he would allow time for the government to study and digest the farmers' brief and perhaps later in the year he would lead a small group of prairie leaders to take up the plea again.

Youth Admits $200 Theft

Lynn Robert Shepherd, 18, of 1908 Cook, pleaded guilty in city police court Tuesday to breaking, entering and theft of $200 worth of goods from Fairfield Greenhouses Co. Ltd., 1770 Fairfield, on March 1.

It was his second such charge in two days, the first having been heard in Saanich police court Monday, to which he also pleaded guilty.

Shepherd was remanded to Friday for a probation report and sentence.

The accused broke into the greenhouse with a 16-year-old juvenile, court was told, and a truck, a number of tools, radio, accordion and sewing machine were taken.

Det. Alex Briggs said with Shepherd's co-operation all the property was recovered.

In Saanich court, Shepherd pleaded guilty to taking about 40 packages of cigarettes in a break-in at Tillium Outdoor Theatre early Sunday. He was accompanied again by a 16-year-old who is being dealt with by juvenile authorities.

Legal Path To Clear Debt Paved

Amendment of the Revenue Act to prepare for the government's debt elimination program in 1959 and 1960 was proposed in the legislature Tuesday.

A bill introduced by Attorney-General Robert Bonner will permit the comptroller-general to issue a certificate stating B.C. is debt-free whenever sinking funds are equal in size to the direct debt.

According to the bill when the certificate is issued it will mean no further sinking fund payments will be required and provincial debentures, now held in sinking funds will be cancelled. It also stipulates that interest earnings of sinking fund investments may be used only to pay interest due on the direct debt.

Another bill cancels the highway development fund set up by previous governments through borrowings. But the bill is not effective until B.C. is free of direct debt.

There is an amendment to the Trustees Act to agree with legislation of other provinces in respect to permitted investments of trust funds.

Permitted investments include provincial or federal securities, municipal securities, real estate first mortgages and securities which are guaranteed by the province.

More safety measures are ordered in a bill to amend the Boiler and Pressure Vessels Act, one provision being that an engineer-in-charge may not leave his post without replacement for longer than 15 minutes.

Brutal Action By Vancouver Police Probed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A one-handed man from suburban Surrey has alleged that police broke his arm and nose in an incident Saturday night. Police Chief George Archer is making a "full investigation."

Gordon G. Recknagel, 22, made the claim Monday in a complaint to Mayor Tom Als-bury.

Recknagel said he plans to seek legal advice about suing the policemen and the city for damages. He was treated in hospital for a fractured left arm and nose, and head lacerations. Two of his teeth were broken.

Recknagel and his friend,
Robert Arlitt, 24, of Surrey, said they noticed a fight as they were leaving a cabaret Saturday. As they passed police entering the cabaret, Recknagel said he commented:
"Reinforcements have arrived.
Bully, big deal."

He said he was grabbed from behind just outside the cabaret. One policeman held him around the neck while another put a wrist lock on him.

The hook which he has used for a right hand since an industrial accident six years ago came off, Recknagel said.

"They pushed me into the paddy wagon. Inside, one put great pressure on my arm. I told them: 'You'll break my arm and it's the only one I've got.'"

"He said 'shut up' and added more pressure. I heard a big crack and there was an awful pain. My arm broke."

"I pleaded with him to take the pressure off — that my other arm was still raw at the stump . . . He put more pressure on."

ZILLION-TO-1 DISCOVERY IN THE CRIB

Dave Gibson became a zillion-to-one shot cribbage player Monday when he drew a 29 hand from the crib in a noon-hour game with fellow workers.

Gibson, Ted Allen, Fred
Davis and Frank Hyman, employees of Colwood Motor Transport, were playing their usual lunch-hour game.

A 29 hand is always a long-odds occurrence, but the odds against drawing such a hand from the crib are so great they are practically astronomical, experts say.

IT'S THERE IN THE BANK Short of Cash? This Might Help

By HAL MALONE, Times Business Editor

Money is something 100 Victorians can apparently do without.

For nine years this anti-lucre group have steadfastly refused to put their fingers on the filthy stuff.

They have let it sit, lonely and morose, in Victoria banks. Now the banks plan to get rid of it. They are going to turn it over to the Bank of Canada. To get it back owners will have to satisfy the B of C that it is really theirs.

The money—$5,022.34—represents bank balances unclaimed and untouched in nine years. After that period of servicing the account and paying interest on savings deposits, chartered banks automatically turn it over to the Bank of Canada. It keeps the money in escrow until the eventual owner decides he wants it and proves it is his. While it sits with the Bank of Canada no interest is paid.

The Canada Gazette lists 182 pages of unclaimed bank balances worth $334,898.12. In many cases the owners of the money cannot be identified due to the bank staff's inability to read the depositor's scrawl of a signature.

Here's the list of Victorians who haven't bothered to pick up their "root of all evil." Your name might be among them.

CONTRACTORS URGED TO CO-OPERATE

Labor Laws 'Outmoded'

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—J. Eric Harrington, president of the Canadian Construction Association, today urged closer liaison among construction men in the fields of labor relations, tendering practices and association work.

Mr. Harrington, addressing the Canadian Painting and Decorating Contractors Association, said in regard to labor relations:

"It is increasingly apparent that labor legislation is in most cases very much outmoded.

"The report of the select committee on labor relations of the Ontario legislature supported many of the industry's recommendations and we have been encouraged by recent reports of a new bill recently submitted by the British Columbia government which would require unions to have legal status and curb many of the current picketing abuses. Recent developments in Newfoundland have been dramatic to say the least.

"Revisions to the federal labor code and to those in the two main industrial provinces are doubly desirable because of their widespread coverage of Canadian industry and because they have considerable influence on labor legislation in other parts of the country."

Urging close liaison between contractor groups in local labor negotiations, Mr.

Harrington said an ill-considered agreement hastily signed by employers in one trade in one centre can have widespread repercussions on negotiations and construction costs elsewhere.

Mr. Harrington—who is president of Anglin-Norcross Corporation Ltd., Montreal—also said that general and trade contractors and their associations should work together to develop tendering practices which increase efficiency and are fair to the contracting parties and general public.

LISBON FALLS (UPI)—An unemployed laborer and three stepdaughters died Tuesday when an oil-fed flash fire roared through their tar-papered house in the shanty town section of this community.

4 Seattle Fishermen Lost

SEATTLE (AP)—An empty fishboat riding high in stormy Puget Sound, a heavy sea, sudden capsizing, and death for the four men aboard. That was the outline of tragedy which appeared to be developing Tuesday after the sinking of the 56-foot troller. Midway off Whidbey Island, 50 miles north of here on the Washington State coast.

The four veteran fishermen who made up her crew were missing and presumed drowned, probably trapped without a warning chance to escape.

The Midway was sighted floating upside down. She sank in 150 feet of water minutes later.

Coast Guard patrol boats and planes searched through the day for signs of survivors, but there was no indication the men had been able to use the lifejackets or dory. There had been no radio distress signal.

The lost men, all from Seattle, are Bjarne Olsen, skipper and part owner; John Elkevik, Carl Jensen and Simon Ingebrektesen.

Arnie Anderson, son of the co-owner, said the Midway had unloaded at Bellingham Monday afternoon and was homeward bound without cargo and a little ballast.

Storm warnings were up on the sound through the night and gusty winds turned it into a choppy sea.

Public May Be Burned If Coal Act Scuttled

Customers will have no way of knowing they are getting what they are paying for when they order coal if a bill now before the legislature is passed, Arthur Turner (CCF, Vancouver East) said in the House Monday.

The bill, an act to repeal the Coal Sales Act, was given second reading, despite the protest.

Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said the provisions of the bill were duplicated by the federal government "and it no longer serves a practical purpose."

But Mr. Turner said the federal legislation does not require, as the old provincial act does, that coal shipments be labelled as to source. And the origin of coal is important because various coals have varying qualities.

If the bill is repealed, "the customer has no way of being sure what he is paying for," said Mr. Turner. "It is unwise to repeal it."

Mr. Kiernan said outside the house, "Many things are purchased on the buyer's confidence in the seller—for example stove oil, gasoline, tires and canned goods."

Kathleen Davies, 905 Aral, was fined $250 and prohibited from driving for one year when she was found guilty in city police court Monday of impaired driving.

Lucky Dogs 'Unleashed'

Oak Bay dogs will just have to understand heels and listen to their masters' voice.

It's the only alternative to jail.

But actually, they are lucky dogs.

A bylaw, which would have put the municipality's canine crowd on leashes when out promenading, was voted down by municipal council Monday.

But only after considerable baying.

In a letter to council, the SPCA said the proposed "leash law" would be "unnecessarily harsh on dog owners, as well as the dogs."

No other Greater Victoria municipality has a leash law, the organization pointed out.

Reeve George Murdoch declared that few dogs are trained to stand at heel, and that a dog on a leash is actually a protected dog—protected from traffic and other dogs.

Jim Cleland, 3150 Midland, said that he believed dogs weren't so much a hazard to motorists as motorists were to the dogs.

But postmen—almost as a matter of course—had been bitten, he recalled, as well as children.

"The police wouldn't do anything about it."

No charges were laid, he said, perhaps because "a dog is permitted one bite."

But he opposed leashes as "almost physically impossible" to operate effectively.

Council agreed the trouble with dogs was that the present bylaw had not been enforced with sufficient bite.

Johnny's Planning Another Pro Card

Johnny Reddin, who brought world light-heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore to Victoria for an exhibition bout last month, is planning another pro mitt card at Memorial Arena.

Reddin expects to line up a 10-round main event between a pair of heavyweight punchers who are rated in the top 10 of their division.

"I should know in a couple of days whether or not I can sign the boys I want," Reddin said. "I'm almost positive we'll have a fight card in early April."

Reddin, planning to stage bouts about every two months, believes he can get several "name" fighters, including Yvon Durelle, to appear in Victoria.

SIDELINE SLANTS

BY

Doug Peden

It took four years, but Andy Heberton must finally have surprised Muzz Patrick.

Muzz is the New York general manager who recognized a hockey jewel in the rough and lifted Heberton away from Victoria Cougars four years back and dropped him in with the Rangers as a National Hockey League rookie of 26 years.

Although "Honest" Andy had just finished a sparkling 46-goal season with the Cougars, most of the hockey "experts" continued to hum the tune they had been repeating for a couple of seasons. Heberton, they said, was too rough a skater and would never be able to keep up with the speed boys in the big time.

Apparently Montreal Canadiens, who owned his contract, were of the same opinion. Heberton, always a tireless and willing workhorse, scored more than 20 goals in four of his five seasons with Victoria, but the Canadiens never gave him a chance in an NHL game.

Muzz, who had watched Heberton for three seasons while managing the former Tacoma Rockets, admits it took him quite a while to make up his mind about the burly winger. But when he finally got the pieces of the Heberton puzzle fitted together, he reached for a Ranger cheque book in a hurry.

"I kept thinking about Andy," Muzz said just before Heberton headed for the New York training camp. "I couldn't forget that while he looked crude, he beat the dickens out of my Rockets several times."

"I began to wonder if we were perhaps rating him on his skating style instead of on what he could accomplish. Then when Andy scored 46 goals that season, I knew he could play for the Rangers. Any player who scores 46 times in the WHL isn't skating with two left feet."

"In fact, it wouldn't surprise me if he stayed with the Rangers for several years."

Andy's been there for almost four and it would probably take six sticks of dynamite to blast him out of the lineup next season.

Muzz Admits It Was His Best Deal

"Heberton's playing well," Patrick said while making a swing through the Western League later that season. "It wouldn't surprise me if he scored 20 goals."

Andy did just that. He notched 24 in his rookie year and followed up with a pair of 21-goal campaigns.

Visiting Victoria while Heberton was in his sophomore NHL season, Patrick remarked, "He's a real star. I wouldn't be surprised if the deal for Heberton was the best one I ever made."

It wasn't long until the Ranger GM admitted as much.

Attending the WHL all-star game in Vancouver last week, Muzz was beaming when he talked about the ex-Cougar. "Believe it or not," he said, "Andy's still improving. He's a real pro now, skating better than ever and working just as hard. The way he takes care of himself, he could be around for several more years."

"It wouldn't surprise me if he scored 30 goals this time. It'll be close, but he might make it."

Andy made it in just two games. Owning 26 goals a week ago, he scored one last Saturday and hammered in three goals against Detroit Sunday. Patrick expected the rugged Ranger might reach the 30 mark, but even as a Heberton tub-thumper from way back, Muzz must have been surprised by the fact that Andy, noted more for steady play than spectacular scoring sprees, hit the target with six frames left to play.

Skeptics Were Convinced Long Ago

Plunging up and down right wing in the style of a bashful rhinoceros, Andy has been tagged with the nickname "Rhino" by admiring Madison Square Garden galleries. Although he needs only four more tallies to join the NHL's 100-goal fraternity, he still appears embarrassed every time he scores a goal. It's almost as if he still believes he isn't good enough to play in the big league.

However, although modest almost to a fault, he has acquired the confidence that 96 goals are bound to bring and long ago convinced the skeptics that he can skate with anyone. There is still nothing flamboyant about his style and he still works as hard at back-checking as he does at scoring goals.

Perhaps it is the coaches and players who most appreciate Heberton's dedication to his work. Ranger coach Phil Watson, who is quicker to pan than praise, is quoted this way:

"Nobody sees Andy out there, but he's a real worker. I use him against the other team's big lines. I use him on the power play and when we're short-handed. When somebody on our team comes to the bench to get off the ice because he's tired, Heberton jumps right in while everyone else is watching the puck. He's terrific, wonderful!"

Phil was just saying what everyone in the NHL knows—Andy Heberton is a hockey player's hockey player.

Goal Splurge That Jolted Pils Was Just Dividend for Sailors

Navy 7, Pilseners 4

By ERNIE FEDORUK

RETURNING TO TOP FORM after injuries, smooth Gordie Wilson (left) and George Ford are expected to carry big part of Victoria Cougars lead in home-stretch battles for Western Hockey League playoff positions. Ford and Wilson will both be firing for Cats at Memorial Arena tonight in important tussle with Spokane Spokes, who are currently only two points back of third-place Cougars. Game is crucial one for both clubs since New Westminster is threatening to make rush from last place. Game time tonight is 8:30.

Norm Jones was pleased by a four-goal flurry by his Victoria Navy crew early in the third period of Tuesday night's opening game of the B.C. intermediate hockey semifinal, but he wasn't surprised.

As far as the Navy coach was concerned, the scoring splurge that wrecked Vancouver Pilseners at Memorial Arena and sent the Sailors away to a one-game lead in the best-of-five series was just a dividend coupon clipped from a strenuous training program.

"Those daily practices brought the boys into top condition," he explained. "They paid off tonight." The four goals broke open a tightly-contested battle and gave the Sailors a 7-2 lead with a little more than 11 minutes remaining.

Jones also expected the lapse that enabled Mike Shabaga's Pilseners to score twice, to trim the score to 7-4 and bounce back into contention.

"You can mark up that lapse against experience... or the lack of it," Jones said. "We haven't had the good, strong competition needed for tough playoff competition. When they ran into a little difficulty, they panicked and started bunched up around the goal."

"It's a good thing that let-down didn't come any sooner," the Navy coach concluded.

Second Meeting Slated Thursday

The series opener, played before a turnout of 1,800 fans, ended 7-4 and teams today are getting set for Thursday's second encounter at the B.C. intermediate rink. That one starts at 8:30.

The series will revert to the mainland for games Saturday and Sunday at Kerrisdale Arena. If a fifth game is needed, it will be played here next Tuesday.

The Sailors, smaller but speedier than the Pacific Coast Amateur League standard-bearers, held an edge in play throughout most of the game. Held to a 1-1 tie after the opening period, Navy moved ahead 3-2 after the second and then wrapped it up with that four-goal outburst.

Ace marksman Neil Standley scored three times to pace the Tars, volatile Johnny Bond added two, while singles came off the sticks of Carl Christaens and Joe Tanner.

Big Pete Eades, Norm Usselman, Frank Carlson and George Wovk connected for the Pils.

The shots on goal provide a good indication of how play went. Al Weisner stopped 38 Navy shots while Jim Rutherford blocked 28.

Despite the fact that Rutherford seemed to have less work, the big Navy netminder was a tower of strength. He made at least five stops on clean breakaways, including two within a minute by Eades when the score still stood 1-1 early in the second period.

ICE CHIPS: Navy drew six of the game's 10 penalties, including three to Bond... Navy defenceman Wayne McLeod suffered a cut on the side of the head late in the third... it marked the third time in less than a week that McLeod needed stitches to close a cut.

Wings Worry But Flyers Are Satisfied

McNeill Sparks Edmonton Climb; Royals Triumph

By The Canadian Press

Detroit Red Wings today must be wondering whether they sent pepperpot Billy McNeill back to their Edmonton Flyers farm team too soon.

Red Wings, on the brink of being knocked out of the National Hockey League playoffs for the first time in 21 years, sent McNeill to Butte, Mont.

altering Flyers last month. Poile, who saw his team slip from first place and almost out of the race for a Western Hockey League playoff berth since Christmas, probably is much happier than the Wings management about the results of the move.

McNeill has been flying for the Flyers. He scored his eighth and ninth goals since rejoining the Flyers five games ago.

HOLD SECOND PLACE

The goals, within the space of 59 seconds, brought Edmonton into a 2-2 tie with the Vancouver Canucks and Edmonton went on to score a narrow 4-3 victory and hold onto second place in the WHL's Prairie Division.

In other action Tuesday night, the leaders of the Prairie and Coast sections fell victim to four-goal outbursts in the third period.

Saskatoon Quakers used their scoring burst to gain a 5-1 victory over Calgary Stampede at Calgary and New Westminster Royals came from behind a 3-1 deficit with their four goals and got a 5-3 win over Seattle Totems.

The result kept Royals in a fight for last playoff spot in the coast loop. Quakers are now in sole possession of third place in the Prairie Division.

PACED FLYERS

McNeill's two goals paced Flyers. Others came from Chuck Holmes, also sent down by Detroit, and Don Poile.

Ted Hampson, Ray Cyr and Ron Hutchinson, three centres, handled Vancouver's scoring.

At New Westminster, the Royals saw a 1-0 first period lead slip away before they came up with a last-minute spur to edge the Totems.

Reno Zanker, rookie goalie called up from Penticton, played a big part in their victory with a fine display.

Art Jones, Max McNab, Arnie Schmutz, Gary Collins and Gord Fashoway scored for New Westminster. Seattle scorers were Gerry Leonard, Bill MacFarland and Jim Powers.

The New Zealanders, replying to the MCC's 198, scored 168 for eight on the second day of a three-day match.

Don Beard, 39-year-old New Zealand all-rounder, became the hero of the enthusiastic crowd, taking the remaining three MCC wickets for seven runs.

Second Fatality Stirs Ski Storm

VIENNA (AP)—Ski-loving Austria mourned the death of one of its most popular and best-known skiers, 24-year-old Toni Mark, amid demands that international Alpine ski racing be made less dangerous.

Mark died in hospital at Tegernsee, West Germany, Tuesday, without regaining consciousness after he suffered head injuries Saturday when he crashed into the crowd during an international downhill race.

His death was the second this season in an international ski tournament in West Germany. Last month John Semmelink, 20-year-old Canadian, was killed in the famed Kandahar race at Garmisch-Partenkirchen. Also this season, another Austrian skier was killed and several international stars seriously injured.

The rising toll of accidents brought demands in the Vienna, newspaper Express that increased safety precautions be imposed in Alpine skiing. The Express headlined an interview with Dr. Karl Weisbach, well-known Vienna sport physician: "Today every ski racer is a candidate for death."

Thomas Likes Records—and Records

BOSTON (AP)—America's most amazing athlete is an 18-year-old college freshman who loves dancing, jazz records and his own-looking.

Yet John Thomas is the greatest high jumper in history only because five years ago he wasn't tall enough for basketball.

Combining modesty and self-confidence, John's reaction to his world record leap of seven feet, 1 1/4 inches last month at the national AAU indoor meet was typical.

"Records were made to be broken and I will continue to try to go higher," said the muscular 180-pound Negro youth.

What makes Thomas unique is the startling speed with which he has captured records and public imagination alike. The gangling son of a Cambridge, Mass., bus driver, Thomas is a product of the space age. Last December he made a promising jump of six feet 8 1/2 inches for Boston University freshmen against Harvard.

Then followed an eight-week spree in which John seven times bettered the approved world indoor mark of six feet 10 1/4 inches, and shattered all existing records with his effort of seven feet 1 1/4 inches.

But the early days were filled with uncertainty and discouragement.

inches tall, John chuckles at the picture of himself as a scrawny five-foot-10 high school freshman who couldn't make the basketball team.

Thomas laughs even harder at his first competitive high jump. He struggled to clear four feet nine inches. In grammar school, John's first love was basketball. But at Rindge Technical High School the axe fell.

At Rindge, Thomas had no interest in track at first, but finally gave in to the pressure of his neighborhood pals to join them in giving it a try.

As a sophomore under the watchful eye of coach Tom Duffy, he also had made rapid strides in tennis. At the end of the year he had to make a choice between the conflicting sports.

"I finally admitted to myself I enjoyed the track a little more," Thomas says.

In practice sessions, Thomas jumps purely for perfection in style. He never is told at what height the bar is placed.

Thomas is a self-styled record nut with a special taste for Australian jazz quintets and Latin-American rhythms.

In his eighth year with the Boy Scouts, Thomas has been working the past few summers as a chef's assistant at a Scout camp in New Hampshire. He gained 10 pounds eating his own cooking this fall.

QUEEN MOTHER TO SEE POPE

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Mother Elizabeth will ignore Protestant objections to her plan to call on Pope John during a private holiday visit to Italy next month, informed sources said Tuesday.

It has been clearly established by tradition that British Royal visits to the Pope, customary when any of the reigning family are in Italy, are courtesy calls with no religious significance whatever.

Saanich Yard Shop Centre Bid Renewed

One of two companies which last year tendered for the Saanich Douglas Street municipal yard site for construction of a shopping centre has renewed its offer.

W. H. Malkin Ltd. of Victoria, again offered Saanich Council Monday $92,500 for the five-acre property and proposed construction of a $750,000 shopping centre. Council referred the offer to its lands and planning committee for discussion on March 19.

The other company interested in the site is Dominion Construction Co. of Vancouver. It is negotiating with council to buy the land for $65,000 and to build an integrated $2,000,000 shopping centre. Council last year favored Dominion's larger and more extensive shopping plan.

He's Got Troubles

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — Weston Dean Eastman, Jr., 11, fell out of a tree a week ago and was carried home in a police cruiser badly shaken. Friday he was operated on for appendicitis. Sunday his parents visited him and found out he has developed mumps and tonsillitis.

New legislation which will permit the forestry service to commandeer machinery and equipment, with compensation, for control of forest fires, was introduced in the House Tuesday by Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston.

The bill stipulates that payment for use of any equipment used shall be set by the cabinet.

The bill also gives the government power to set wage rates which must be paid by industrial operations using land over which a fire is burning.

Elsewhere in the bill there is provision for the minister to conduct a public hearing "in the absence of the forest adviser" following the death of former forestry adviser, Gordon Sloan, Mr. Williston announced he would complete hearings of matters which were then underway.

Finally, the bill establishes that anyone holding a licence for cutting Christmas trees on wild lands shall pay an annual tax of five cents for each hundred trees of the approved annual allowable cut.

Rural Industry 'Isolated'—MLA

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi is woeing city dwellers while rural industrial areas remain isolated, John Squire (CCF, Alberni) said in the Legislature Tuesday.

Zeballos and Tahsis on the northwest coast of Vancouver Island are major industrial centres but their only connection with B.C. is through payment of the five per cent tax, said Mr. Squire.

There will be 300,000 tons of ore shipped soon from Zeballos, and Tahsis mill is producing 350,000 board feet of lumber, but as soon as there is pressure on a city bridge, where cars are held up 10 minutes, the government is ready to spend millions.

"Because you are not spending enough in the outside areas, the people are going to the cities," he added.

Mr. Squire also told the minister he should remove the highway signs which show when the highways are constructed. "Already people are saying, 'I didn't realize that section was only built in '56 and already it's going to pieces,'" Mr. Squire added. "I'll bet some of the contractors who built them will be asking you to take them down."

SIGNS CONTEST

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan wondered if the "Sorry for the inconvenience" signs were costly, because he did not know what purpose they served.

Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan) was concerned about the roads in his riding where "You don't wear out tires, you blow them out."

Mr. Gagliardi said in reply to Mr. Squire the road signs were put up to let people know where their money is going. The "Sorry" signs only cost about $3, he told Mr. Strachan.

"There are politicians running around trying to discredit the government and the signs keep the people informed."

The minister said with regard to the isolated areas "We'll get there." He was interested in a proposal by Mr. Squire that the government make an arrangement with logging companies which now have private roads through the Elk River Valley toward Tahsis.

'Top of Pile' West Heading for Tumble

Western civilization is heading for a decline unless it changes its attitude to the rest of the world, an agriculturist-missionary told the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

"I believe firmly that if in this western world of ours we don't change our way of life, and radically, there are all the earmarks of a people on the way out," said Rev. Kenneth Prior who served 30 years assisting natives improve agricultural techniques in Nigeria and Portuguese West Africa.

Citing extravagant waste by westerners, he said: "Nearly everywhere I go, people say they never had it so good, but they are forgetting that half the world's population never had it so bad."

Rev. Prior said that at present, the white man is "on top of the pile" and has only one way to go—down. Those on

'Deadwood' Hit At University

NANAIMO—Too many students are attending university who should not be there, according to a brief slated for presentation to the Chant Commission on Education here Tuesday.

Among those contributing to the brief is E. Miles, president, Nanaimo District Teachers' Association.

The brief suggests that educational functions are limited insofar as "B.C. offers only two streams of high school education, one designed for those heading for university and the other a sort of vocational education."

In dealing with industrial arts, the brief said many students are retarded due to deficiency in language subjects, and that these pupils find themselves in vocational courses.

And these courses, the brief stated further, also receive the majority of the "emotional cripples" who are maladjusted and antagonistic to society.

ALBERNI (CP)—A 16-year-old escapee of Brannan Lake school for boys near Nanaimo has been sentenced to two one-year concurrent terms in the young offenders' unit at Oakalla prison after he pleaded guilty Tuesday in police court here on two charges of breaking, entering and theft.

MONTE ROBERTS

A kindly constituent who identifies herself only as "Mrs. Johnson" has sent along an advertisement, to which I wish to introduce you as gently as possible.

Here is the advertisement, with the type of product and brand name deleted:

"YOU'RE LOOKING AT THE WORLD'S SWANKIEST... take another look at (brand name's) gleaming NEW beauty... the NEW sleek lines enhanced by the modern medallion—never before such smart styling in a (type of product)! And it's easier to use, too—thanks to exclusive 'one-two' opening action! Five-year guarantee—PROOF of quality!"

Such an elegant advertisement! What sweeping writing, what choice of adjective, what smoothness of presentation!

But what is the product advertised?

Is it a car? A refrigerator? A bracelet and earring set?

No, it isn't any of those.

It's a can-opener.

And Mrs. Johnson, for one, is glad to see the artistic ability of the advertising copywriter turned at last to this long-neglected object.

"This lowly but essential (to modern gals) gadget has come into its own," says Mrs. Johnson. "A family which acquires one of these new can-openers could be the envy of the neighborhood."

"Mrs. Jones, after a visit to Mrs. Smith, would probably say to her husband: 'Really, her home and her children are a disgrace, but her can-opener! It's the most beautiful thing I've ever seen. Do you think we could afford one like it?'"

"And the husband examines his financial resources, takes out a bank loan, and acquires an even more beautiful can-opener than that owned by Mrs. Smith, just to keep peace in the family."

I am inclined to agree with Mrs. Johnson. Let us go on to bigger, better and more beautiful can-openers.

And let us look forward to the coming day of great prosperity and plenty for all, when there will be two cans of chicken in every pot, and two can-openers in every kitchen.

Gleaming, of course, with NEW beauty.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Eight nurses of the Victorian Order of Nurses here made 23,104 calls on some 3,000 patients in Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and View Royal, an annual report synopsis indicated Tuesday.

Full report will be presented to the annual meeting in Spencehouse March 18 at 2 p.m.

James Gibson, 19, of 4561 West Saanich, was fined $35 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to being in possession of four hubcaps stolen last November.

The caps, valued at $35, were taken by two juveniles from a car owned by Russell Taylor, which was parked at 833 Yates. They then were hidden behind the building, court was told, and Gibson got them when the caps were offered to him by the juveniles.

Gibson was admonished for not reporting the articles when he learned later that they were stolen.

William A. Neilles, 520 Falkland, was elected first vice-president of the B.C. Young Conservatives Association at the association's annual convention in Vancouver.

He is also president of the Greater Victoria Young Progressive Conservative Association.

Elected president of the parent body was G. R. B. Coultas, formerly of Victoria, and now residing in Vancouver.

Some $4,000 was cut from the city fire department's 1959 estimates Tuesday by finance committee but the preliminary figures still indicate a budget of $551,015, up some $19,367 from last year.

Wage increases could send it higher.

City comptroller — Dennis Young Tuesday recommended appropriation of $3,000 for a detailed study of new electronic business machines for City Hall.

He said substantial sums could be saved if the right machines are picked when the present equipment, worth $45,000, is renewed within two or three years.

Finance committee made no decision but indicated favorable response to the proposal.

General Strike Threat Bigger As Talks Flop

Prospect of a one-day general protest strike throughout B.C. loomed larger today following failure of the B.C. Federation of Labor to persuade Labor Minister Lyle Wicks to change some sections of his new labor act.

TRUCK DRIVER NOT GUILTY JURY RULES

Donald Croft, 3756 Seaton, was found "not guilty" by an Assize Court jury today on a charge of criminal negligence arising from the traffic death of 75-year-old Mrs. Isabel Louise Tautz, 3210 Douglas.

Mrs. Tautz, a pedestrian, was in collision with Mr. Croft's truck at the Douglas and Francis Streets crosswalk.

$1,000 Damage As Fire Hits Asphalt Tank

An estimated $1,000 damage was caused by fire of undetermined origin at a 3,000-gallon asphalt storage tank near Point Ellice bridge at 10:38 p.m. Tuesday.

The blaze was reported by 60-year-old George Burkmar, 1503 Chambers, who said he hitched a ride to the main fire hall because he had no money to make a telephone call.

Damage was mostly to wooden frame and supports of the large tank, which is electrically heated.

A federation delegation which met with the minister for 1½ hours this morning came away angry and disappointed.

"He flatly declined to discuss the implications of the act and the effect it will have on the trade union movement in B.C.," said federation secretary Pat O'Neal.

"I would say the result of this meeting greatly increases the chance of a general strike throughout the province. Resentment is mounting daily."

Mr. O'Neal said the delegation "got no satisfaction at all" from Mr. Wicks and that further talks with him "would be useless if they were as lacking in satisfaction as was this one."

Asked how soon a general strike might be called, the secretary replied, "That would be up to the federation executive to decide. We are keeping our members informed."

Mr. O'Neal said the delegation stressed to the minister how the new legislation would "discriminate against unions, and how it would infringe on the civil liberties of the workers of B.C."

"This legislation would make B.C. the only province in Canada where such anti-labor legislation existed."

"But there was no indication by Mr. Wicks that our remarks and suggestions would receive any consideration at all."

The delegation was headed by federation president William Black and was also composed of executive member Bob Smeal, federation second vice-president Victor Midgley, Victoria Labor Council secretary A. W. Toome and woodworkers' official Jack MacKenzie.

Mr. O'Neal said later the federation had not given up in its attempts to prevent the bill being passed as it now stands, because "we have only just begun."

Twenty-five gallons of gasoline and a sledge hammer were reported stolen from a Heaney's crane left at the Ogden Point yard of Western Lumber Carriers Monday night.

Theft was reported to city police Tuesday at 4:10 p.m., several hours after the crane was returned to its garage.

'LEFT OUT' DAUGHTER WINS LEGACY

The disinherited daughter of a Victoria doctor was awarded almost $15,000 Tuesday in B.C. Supreme Court when Mr. Justice Norman W. Whittaker varied the will of Dr. Darrell Peters Hanington.

The doctor died March 7, 1958, passing over in his will a daughter, Mrs. Ida Agnes Lundahl of Vancouver. He had favored his own sister, Mrs. Eleanor Rye, 71, of Trafalgar, Ont., with a life interest in the residuary estate, with the money going to her two sons after her death.

Court was told there had obviously been good will between father and daughter, since Dr. Hanington had advanced money to Mrs. Lundahl to help her buy a home.

Mr. Justice Whittaker reduced Mrs. Rye's interest in the estate to $2,000 and cut her two sons out entirely. The money is to go to Mrs. Lundahl.

APPEALS OWN ASSESSMENT—AND LOSES

Alderman Fails to Beat Himself

Ald. Elmer McEwen stepped down from his membership in the city's business tax appeal board temporarily today to appeal his own assessment, and lost.

He made an appeal, through counsel, against a rental as-essment of $22,220 on his three businesses at Fort and Douglas. The 6½ per cent tax is based on assessment.

Ald. McEwen's claim was that his taxes, which increased 5½ times since 1946, were exhorbitant.

Rental appraiser R. E. Wells

argued that the same formula was used for assessing the rental as had been used for other premises.

Board was told that the 50 per cent increase in assessed rental value over actual rent payments could spell the difference between a business success or failure.

However, after prolonged and involved discussion of the appeal, the board reduced the assessment total by only $940, on recommendation of Mr. Wells. It was far less than the reduction sought.

Japan Market Booms For Island Iron Ore

Shipment of iron ore from Vancouver Island and adjacent areas to Japan is developing into a $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 business.

This became apparent today when Nimpkish Iron Mines Ltd. announced it will begin shipping iron ore in July or August from its properties in the Nimpkish Lake region of north Vancouver Island.

Vernon Wines, project manager, said Nimpkish will spend $2,000,000 to bring its property to the production and shipping point. The project will employ 35 to 50 men on a year-round basis, he said.

Construction phase will employ up to 100 men.

It is estimated the Nimpkish program might mean $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 worth of business to the mine and area. Depending on fluctuations in demand by Japanese industry the contract might run to five years.

Nimpkish has proven up 1,000,000 tons of iron ore and expects to produce considerably more through an exploration program on its holdings elsewhere in the region.

Nimpkish is the third B.C. company to deal with Japan. A fourth deal is being negotiated.

Empire Development will ship $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 worth of iron concentrate to Japan over a three-year period. Already 300,000 tons have been exported. The Empire property is at Port McNeill.

Texada Mines Ltd. has shipped over 1,500,000 tons from Texada Island. Estimated value of its deal with Japanese interests is $10,000,000.

Pacific Quarries Ltd. and Cascade Lode Mines plan to develop more than 300,000 tons of high grade ore near Zeballos for shipment to Japan.

$1,000,000 PROJECT

Nimpkish plans to move its iron ore 26 miles to tidewater at Beaver Cove where conveying equipment and bulk loading facilities will be installed by Canadian Forest Products railway. Crushing, screening concentrating equipment and a camp must be installed at the mine site.

Installations will cost about $1,000,000. A similar sum will be spent to bring the project into operation.

BUT NEW TACK STUDIED

City Hits Snag On Parking Plan

The provincial government has declined to introduce an amendment to the Municipal Act which Victoria sought to clear the way for using parking meter fees to pay off the proposed View Street mall and parking development, Mayor Percy Scurrell said today.

But the city is working on another avenue towards the same goal, he added.

"We aren't disturbed about this," Mayor Scurrell explained. "We have other, and we think better, plans for achieving the same result."

The request for special legislation fell victim to a government policy deterring amendments to the Municipal Act for special cases not applicable to the whole province. No such amendments have been made in the recent past.

"The question of the bylaw never came up," said the mayor. "The only question was whether special legislation would be introduced and the government decided against that."

He did not elaborate on the new tack being taken by the city to provide for repayment of the $1,000,000 debentures through parking fees.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Saanich police court today:

Thomas Lidgate, 82 Hampton, $75 for driving while under suspension and $15 for failing to produce his driver's licence upon request.

File Claim Early and Save

(This is the first of a series on how to make out your income tax returns and get refunds and best possible deductions. It is prepared by Gordon A. Green, partner in the firm of Miller, Mendith, Holmes & Co., chartered accountants, in collaboration with income tax officials. It will continue daily.)

By GORDON A. GREEN

Lovely weather we're having! But don't grab that rake or lawn mower yet.

Every year numerous Victorians make the same mistake. They see the sun shine in early March and all of a sudden garden fever strikes.

If these people only realized it, they could save their backs and their pocketbooks by following this suggestion:

Put first things first! The gardens will grow anyway, so unfortunately, will interest on unpaid income taxes.

Maybe you have a refund like thousands of others, but it isn't doing you any good until you prove it to the Income Tax Department.

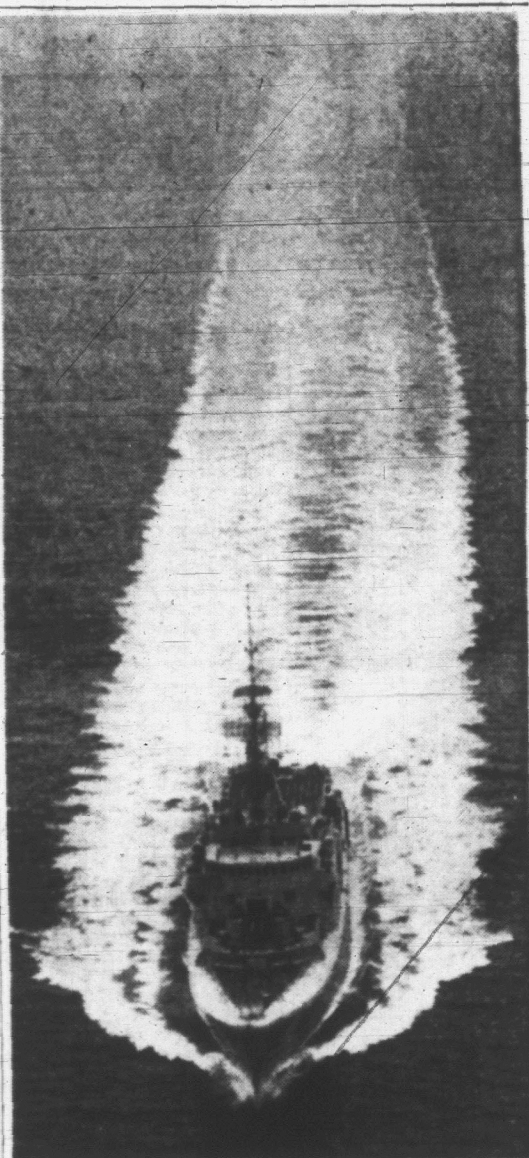

The sooner you calculate your income tax position for 1958 the better. If you have a refund coming, then claim it as soon as possible.

Every taxpayer would be well advised to take the following steps immediately, as a preliminary to filing his or her 1958 tax returns.

HMCS KOOTENAY... new DDE in Island waters.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Kootenay Loads Her Big 'Punch'

The RCN's newest destroyer escort, HMCS Kootenay, arrived at Pedder Bay from Vancouver today to take on ammunition before proceeding to Esquimalt Harbor.

She will undergo work-ups, under direction of the Pacific Command until April 3, when she leaves for Halifax to join the Atlantic Command.

Kootenay was commissioned Saturday at Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd., North Vancouver.

She is the fourth of the Restigouche class destroyer escort developed from the St. Laurent class, and the first of the class to be built on the West Coast.

Advances over the St. Laurent class include sonar equipment, guns and homing torpedoes.

Intensive study of the new sonar is the product of intensive study and exhaustive trials carried out jointly by technical and staff officers of the RCN and scientists of the Defence Research Board.

In general, this new detection equipment is designed to overcome the limitations imposed by unfavorable water temperatures, salinity and other conditions which tend to distort sound passing through the water.

Scientists of the Pacific Naval Laboratory at Esquimalt contributed to the research.

The new sonar equipment also has a greater range than that previously in use.

BETTER GUNS
Kootenay has a twin 3-inch 70 calibre gun mounted forward, replacing the 3-inch 50 calibre gun with which the St. Laurent class is equipped, but there are no Bofors close range weapons.

The 3-inch 70 has a greater rate of fire than the 3-inch 50. Kootenay carries homing torpedoes with improved capabilities over those in the St. Laurent class.

Minor changes have been made in the bridge structure, which now has wings, replacing the open pilotage position on top of the St. Laurent enclosed bridge.

WMS Council Head Calls for Workers

A plea for more workers in mission fields abroad and at home was made by Mrs. A. Glenn Thompson, president of the Women's Missionary Society (W.M.S.) Presbyterian Church in Canada at the 45th annual meeting, British Columbia Synodical that opened in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Tuesday evening.

"World revolution has placed emphasis on the urgency of re-examination of ourselves in the missionary field," said Mrs. Thompson.

"In a world of trouble both politically and economically, there is a greater need for people of the world to face problems. We are those people and our problem is to bring to the undernourished countries, God's message in the form of schools, missions and churches."

Mrs. Thompson scotched the indifference shown by people to the church.

"We must not fail the unchurched," she declared, "the spirit of God stirs up sympathy and a will to work both invaluable to the unity of the church."

"The power to win others to Jesus Christ is owned by simple, ordinary people" went on Mrs. Thompson. "They are the agents of the kingdom of God."

In conclusion, Mrs. Thompson said, "Again I say that our church needs in the worst way to meet the challenge at the door for Christian nurture. This challenge takes in mission work, including downtown mission workers, Sunday school teachers, overseas missionaries and youth club leaders."

Mrs. Thompson, here from Toronto for the opening meeting, left this afternoon to return to the east.

Mrs. M. Clifford, synodical president for WMS presided at the Tuesday evening session.

Attendants Wear Turquoise Gowns

Turquoise tones were predominant in the color theme at the wedding last weekend of Miss Sylvia Helen Fox and Robert John Wray. A trio of attendants wore turquoise trapeze-style gowns with accessories in tone. All carried bouquets of pink and yellow tulips and feathered carnations.

They were Miss Lynne Stewart, Miss Jacqueline McPhillips and Mrs. S. Elliott.

Marriage was solemnized in St. John's Anglican Church with Canon George Biddle officiating.

Frederick Chubb played traditional organ music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fox, Topaz Avenue, and her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wray, Cedar Hill Road.

Lace and net formed the gown worn by the bride. Mother-of-pearl sequins trimmed the neckline and skirt and lace panels extended from the waistline in front and back to the floor-length hemline. A chapel-length veil was held by a ruffled lace headpiece, trimmed with sequins and pearls. Only jewelry was a gold cross. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, yellow feathered carnations and green ivy.

Little Lissa Wherell was flower girl. She wore a frock of rose-toned chiffon and pink taffeta headpiece. She carried a basket of pink tulips and carnations.

Gerald Wray was best man and ushers were Raymond Creed and Norman Fox.

At a reception held in Victoria Golf Club, mother of the bride received guests wearing a dusky rose brocade sheath dress with matching hat and shoes and corsage of gardenias. A blue peau de sole sheath dress was worn by the groom's mother. Her corsage was of roses.

A three-tier wedding cake centred the bridal table, flanked by candles and bowls of fruit. Gordon Wray, who proposed the toast to the bride.

For a wedding trip to United States, the bride wore a peachy coral-toned knitted suit with matching feathered hat and gloves. Her corsage was a pale blue gardenia. She topped the ensemble with a black coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Wray will make their home at 1042 Amphion Street when they return.

Wedding Trip in States Taken by Newlyweds

Honeymooning in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Salt Lake City are newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thomas Williams.

Couple were married in First United Church by Rev. A. I. Higgins. The bride, the former Dorothy Leona Mae Orchard, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Orchard, Eastdowne Road, and her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Williams of Nainaimo, formerly of Victoria.

Pink, yellow and blue flowers decorated the church for the early evening ceremony. Malcolm Hamilton played organ music.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin. A scalloped neckline enhanced the fitted bodice and the floor-length skirt was topped with an overskirt of scalloped lace. A panel of satin joined the waist and hem at the front and sleeves were lily point. Finger-tip veil of illusion misted from her dainty sequin studded cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. J. Vogl, wore a blue brocade dress in ballerina length. Her bandeau was of blue feathers and she had matching accessories. Miss Rolinda Orchard was bridesmaid wearing a similar gown in pink. Both attendants carried bouquets of yellow carnations. Nylon eyelet dress in yellow was worn by Joanne Orchard, tiny sister of bride. Her bandeau was of yellow roses and she carried a basket of pink, blue and yellow carnations.

Kenneth J. Williams was best man and ushers were Frederick Fredette and Daniel Kelway.

Mother of bride wore a royal blue brocade dress, pink accessories and carnation corsage and the groom's mother wore a pale green suit with mink collar, black accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

A three-tier cake centred the table at a reception in Holyrood House. It was surrounded by tulip and pink rosebuds. W. R. Orchard, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast.

Leaving on the wedding trip, the new Mrs. Williams donned a blue-grey worsted suit in simple tailored style. Her accessories were in pink and

RCAF ORGANIZES AEROBATIC TEAM

'FREEDOM'
SHORT-LIVED

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Jamaican government ministers and members of parliament have lost their brief exemption from prosecution for minor offences—including traffic violations, using indecent language and being a public nuisance.

Chief Minister Norman W. Manley rescinded Tuesday night a five-day-old police directive that put them beyond the law. Too many less-favored Jamaicans had complained.

Gold-Plated Stunt Flyers

OTTAWA (CP)—Millions of Canadians this summer will again get a chance to see the RCAF at its flying best.

It was learned authoritatively Monday that the air force will form a team of aerobatic flyers which will be one of the main attractions at the Canadian National Exhibition at Vancouver, the Calgary Stampede and other big shows and fairs, across the country.

The team will be known as The Golden Hawks and will fly gold-painted Sabre Jet fighter planes. The pilots will wear gold-painted helmets and on the fuselage of the Sabres will be painted a red hawk's head.

The leader of the team will be Flt. Lt. J. A. G. Villeneuve of Ottawa. The other five members now are being chosen.

Literally hundreds of RCAF pilots have applied for membership on the team, which soon will go into training at the operational training unit at Chatham, N.B.

Four of the flyers will perform as a team. One other member will perform singly and the sixth is a spare in case of illness.

The team has been formed to commemorate the 50th anniversary of powered flight in Canada and the 35th birthday of the RCAF. Air Force Day will be staggered this year so that the team will be able to appear at different RCAF stations across the country throughout the summer.

PETER T. SINCLAIR
... vigilance needed

Markets Haven't Caught Up With Higher Woods Output

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's forest industry is experiencing a surplus market condition for its products because demand has not yet fully materialized for the output of its expanded mills.

Peter T. Sinclair, president of Crown Zellerbach Canada, Ltd., made this statement in his annual report, to be presented to shareholders today.

He called for "the utmost vigilance in 1959 in resisting operating cost increases" and for more vigorous marketing activities to meet the over-production situation.

Large-scale expansion of pulp and paper manufacturing facilities, deterioration of export lumber markets because of lower prices and burdensome shipping costs were given as reasons for the over-supply situation.

Net income of the company in 1958 was $5,600,000, compared with $3,700,000 in 1957. Sales during 1958 were a record high at $84,900,000.

Cheese
Souffle

Cheese Souffle
1/2 lb. Kraft Canadian Pastourized Process Cheddar Cheese
1/4 cup butter or Kraft's Parkay Margarine
1/4 cup flour
3 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
6 eggs
Slice the cheese. Make a sauce with the butter or margarine, flour, milk and seasoning. When thickened and smooth add the sliced cheese, and stir until the cheese is melted. Remove from the heat and add the beaten yolks of the eggs; mix well. Slightly cool the mixture, then pour it slowly onto the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, cutting and folding the mixture thoroughly together. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart casserole. Run the tip of a teaspoon around in the mixture one inch in from the edge of the casserole, making a slight "crack" or depression. This forms a "top hat" on the souffle as it bakes and puffs up. Bake 1 1/2 hours in a slow oven, 300°. Serve at once.

TV with 22

Golden Gloves at 7 on 5; Dame Edith Sitwell Interviewed at 10

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor
THE WEEKEND--Sometimes I wish I were just starting out on life because I'm ever curious to discover what great strides man will make in the next century, that is if he doesn't first consign himself to ashes. At other times, however, I'm happy that I was born when I was because my generation knows wondrous things that today and tomorrow's children can never know.
We know, for instance, the creaking sound of sleigh runners on hard-packed snow and the cheerful sound of bells on the horses of delivery rigs. Well I remember the cold winds pinching my nostrils squeaky thin as I skated up river against the wind the spell of wood stoves in the shacks in which we used to do our blades and the hot tears coursing down our cheeks as frozen toes would thaw. Then there was summertime and the open trolleys when you sat close to your mom and dad and hoped you wouldn't fall out, the open touring cars and gravel roads and, above all, the Big Top, the big city circus with its smells, its pink lemonade, its cotton candy and a tent that seemed much higher to our young, wondering eyes than Heaven.

Except in rare instances now there are no Big Tops. "The Greatest Show on Earth" is only a movie title or, as on Monday night over ABC-TV, the name of an hour-long glimpse of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus from Charlotte, N.C.
Speaking as an old boy who was once a young boy and knew his circuses, the TV offering was as tasty as the kind of chocolate nut sundaes you see in the windows of confectioneries. They look all right but they aren't the kind you can eat and make yourself violently and ecstatically sick with.

However, if my three youngsters are an example of the year 1 A.S. (After Sputnik) then I suppose the TV version was an unqualified success. They roared with laughter at the clowns. They ooh'd and aah'd over the trapeze and high wire artists and covered their eyes when the male and female were shot out of the cannon.

But they didn't have any pink lemonade, or cotton candy, or popcorn or crackerjack and nobody had to hold their heads when it was all over. But if they don't know what they have missed then let them be happy and their tummies calm. It saves a lot of work.

QUESTION OF THE MONTH--Why did Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz repeat "Lucy Hunts Uranium?"
The ad says "repeated by popular demand." Was it that funny? Or was it that these two with the Midas touch were too busy making more money instead of another comedy. Surely it's too early in the season for repeats?

JACK BENNY'S "Impromptu" skit Sunday night was a dilly. It was also an insight into the success of this 60-year-old 40-year-old. He always makes himself human, his gags and jokes being usually on himself. It's well known in the trade that Benny isn't much without a script, that his funniness comes from his sense of timing. Therefore the "Impromptu" gag was aimed, again, directly at himself.

GM THEATRE'S "This Silent Kingdom" Sunday night was almost an excellent drama. But the last accident of the structure of the whole. At that, however, the Canadian theatre is very welcome in a medium that today is disquietingly empty of worthwhile offerings.

A BOW to Tony Randall for his stint on the Dinah Shore Show Sunday. He is versatile and a pro in the very best sense of the word.

GENOA, Italy (AP)—Dr. Boris H. Vassileff has invented a device to stop snoring by forcing the noise to annoy the snorer.

You snore, says the doctor, when you sleep on your back or in some position in which the back of the tongue sags a bit into the throat. The tongue flutters when the breathing gets heavy and that's what causes all the noise.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Victor Sasser, aged nine, of Mt. Olive, Mississippi, for his question:

Can a Skunk Smell His Own Musk?
There is a good deal of evidence to show that Mr. Skunk can smell his own odor. There is even more evidence that he does not like it any more than we do. Naturalists brave enough to watch him in action say that he is very, very careful to keep his musk away from his silky coat. The woods and fields may reek of skunk in every direction. But the skunk who made the horrible smell remains sweet and fragrant.

The musk is a yellow, oily liquid manufactured in two glands at the base of the skunk's tail. He can spray this repulsive juice for a distance of nine feet and its smell can spread for half a mile. The liquid is a stinging chemical and sprayed dead on target at the enemy's face it can cause blindness for a while.

Mr. Skunk knows full well the power of his weapon. He calmly goes about his business with the comfortable feeling

Fires After Last Warning

The skunk raises his fluffy tail, all but the tip. The muscles around the musk glands are ready to contract and squeeze out the smelly chemical. The skunk may growl one last warning. It is ignored. He swings around with the musk glands aimed at the face of his tormentor. Up goes the tip of the tail and swish goes the spray of musk. His aim is good and one or both of the glands may be fired several times.

After the barrage, the skunk bears no ill will at all. As the puppy howls, he strolls off to get away from the smell. Not a single drop of musk has touched his silky coat.
As a rule, skunks do not defile each other with musk. Perhaps they know that if they do the other fellow can do likewise. Sometimes this rule is broken during the mating season. Two male skunks may call on a lady skunk and get into a jealous fight. The duel starts out with tooth and claw. But, in the heat of battle, one skunk may forget himself and fire his chemical guns at his rival, though this is rare.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Liz Taylor's finally getting some scents.

Liz and I got together on a 5th Avenue sidewalk late the other night—at the door of a limousine trying to rush her to the airport—and she was very communicative... about "smellovision."

About Eddie, no. "Hel-lo!" she said from under a wide black hat. A couple of guys were trying to sneak her out of the Sherry-Netherland but she was nicer than they were. She'd flown here from Chicago to see Michael Todd Jr.'s "smellovision" film demonstration... 10 minutes in which a rose was shown... and she smelled a rose. Then a carpenter shop; she smelled shavings. A delicatessen—she smelled garlic.

"It was sensational," said Liz, who'll play a bit part in Mike Jr.'s "Scent of Mystery." I asked what scent would emanate from her—what she'd smell like. She didn't know yet. But she'll smell like something. (Any suggestion, Debbie?) I fell under her charm and didn't mind her limousine shooting away leaving me empty-notebooked... and a stinking reporter.

Bob Hope watched Bing Crosby on TV—then went into a hospital for an eye ailment—but there's no connection, honest!... Audrey Meadows, smashing back into TV—in a big way as Sid Caesar's wife, was summoned to sub for Ed Murrow on Person to Person March 27. Ed'll be out of town that week, but back the next... Inger Stevens flew Hollywoodward to stay through the Oscar party April 6, demonstrating that her health's O.K. again.

Roxanne Arlen gets a big break on the U.S. Steel TV show March 11 as a strip-teaser with Tom Ewell and June Lockhart in "The Square Egghead." As she explains her strip role: "I come out as a rose—and as summer fades away—I drop my petals—day by day."
... Nice man Irving Berlin sent a $500 cheque to March

Victorians Buy Sidney Duck Farm

Walter G. Cullimore and his son, Dennis, of Victoria, have bought Sidney Duck Farm, Canada's largest duck hatchery, from Capt. and Mrs. H. G. Kennaird.

Amount of the sale was not disclosed.
Capt. Kennaird, who started the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry service in 1924, bought the farm about 10 years ago from L. G. Thomas. It has long been a landmark on the Patricia Bay Highway immediately east of the airport.

Main product of the farm is day-old ducks, shipped in cartons as far east as Toronto. They are hatched in 12 automatic incubators.

Ray Russell will act as hatchery manager. Capt. and Mrs. Kennaird, who will live at Curle's Point, north of Sidney, will act in an advisory capacity.

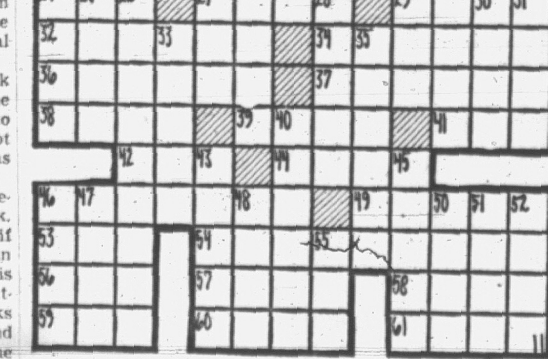

Old Matches 'Give Depth' To Paintings

LONDON (CP)—An exhibition of paintings by W. J. B. "Bill" Newcombe, Canadian abstract expressionist, opened Monday night at London's New Vision Centre gallery.

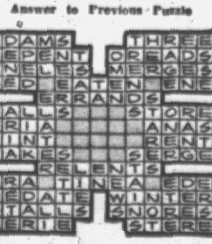

The 45 oils and water colors will hang in the small West End gallery until March 28.

Newcombe, 48, of Victoria and Toronto, has held two other one-man exhibitions in London, and each time his work has created a stir among the more conventional artists.

He uses such things as rope, corrugated cardboard and burnt matches to give depth to the canvas.

FLUORIDATION PROBE

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost said today a royal commission will be appointed to inquire into the controversial issue of fluoridation.

School System Link

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia and Alberta Royal Commissions on Education will try to make education systems uniform in the two provinces.

This was announced Tuesday by Dean S. F. N. Chant of the University of B.C., chairman of the B.C. royal commission, on his return from a three-day meeting with the Alberta commission.

Dean Chant said the joint discussions might result in "the two systems becoming more alike so that any student moving from one province to the other wouldn't have as many problems."

He predicted the move will result in the two provinces taking the lead in producing more uniformity across the country in elementary and secondary education.

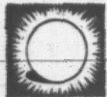

The two commissions will exchange information on research projects so that efforts will not be duplicated. They will also exchange information they have gathered from other countries during the investigations.

The six-man Alberta commission has completed its public hearings and will start writing its report during the summer.

The B.C. group will conduct further hearings during March and April. Dean Chant estimated his report will be out about the end of the year.

Bill Opens 2 Supreme Court Posts

A bill authorizing appointment of two additional Supreme Court justices for British Columbia was introduced in the legislature Tuesday.

Present complement is one chief justice and 11 justices.

The bill was introduced by Attorney-General Robert Bonner. The appointment of additional justices was forecast in the Throne Speech. The need was reported last year by the attorney-general when several cases were delayed by the volume of work then before the courts.

A FINE MAN, SAYS MLA

'Briggs Saved B.C. Money'

British Columbia has lost the services of "a fine man" in H. Lee Briggs, former general manager of the B.C. Power Commission, Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo, Slocan) stated in the Legislature Tuesday.

"I regret we have lost his services through the recent controversy arising out of the refinancing of the power commission's debt," Mr. Harding said.

Mr. Harding claimed that Mr. Briggs' charges had been vindicated by the report of the Shrum royal commission and new legislation introduced as a result.

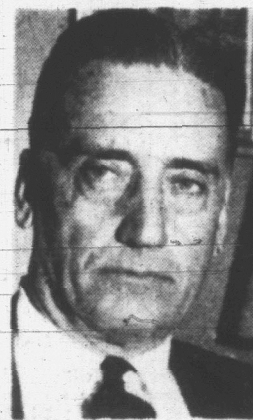

"I trust this will be a lesson to all governments in the future when we are dealing with matters of this sort."

"I feel Mr. Briggs has saved this province a lot of money," Premier Bennett argued that his government, and not Mr. Briggs, had been vindicated and Mr. Harding was "wrong as usual."

"The treasury of this province belongs to the people and there was no special deal. All that was needed was a fair arrangement and this has been satisfactorily worked out."

He said a satisfactory arrangement for the refinancing of the power commission had been worked out by the power commission in consultation with Dr. J. V. Fisher, financial adviser to the government.

"Mr. Briggs may have been a good engineer," the premier added, "but he certainly knew nothing about finances. When a person gets into the wrong category he usually runs into trouble ...

... forced legislation

RANDOLPH HARDING
... "lesson to all"

"The banker is out of his element on a farm and the farmer is out of his element in a bank."

The premier said his government had spent more money on the power commission in one year than all the previous governments put together.

"Now we have appointed a great Canadian and a world figure to be chairman of the commission."—Dr. Hugh Keenleyside.

Date Saves His Date With Bride at Altar

A legal technicality saved the wedding day for seaman George Worden, HMCS Naden, who faced a charge of false pretences involving a worthless cheque for $101 in city police court.

He had pleaded guilty to the charge, laid after he gave the cheque to an auto dealer postdated March 4, and because of this the court advised Worden to change his plea to not guilty, which he did, and the charge was dismissed.

Worden had told the court earlier he had no intention of defrauding the dealer. He left for his wedding in Vancouver forthwith.

A (Don't Miss) B (For Rainy Days)
C (To put in time)

(A) "THE CASE OF DR. LAURENT" (Capitol)—A tale such as told by this French Cocinor production about the birth of a baby so easily might be offensive. But it isn't. It is as natural as the method propounded during the film's 90-minute running time. Indeed, the final sequence is quite beautiful and to ladies with babies, I would guess, reassuring.

Under the guidance of director Jean-Paul Le Chanois the story unfolds gently and skillfully. In the little French Alpine hamlet of St. Martin strangers are rare and the arrival of the new Dr. Laurent (Jean Gabin) sets off a flood of gossip. This rises to a peak when he attends Francine (Nicole Courcel) who has shocked the villagers by being compromised and without husband. Dr. Laurent schools her in the rules of natural birth that he has seen carried out in Paris hospitals so successfully and trains her for an athlete for a contest.

AT FIRST the women reared in an atmosphere of superstition and methods that date back through the history of the community, are highly skeptical. But as Francine's time draws near they begin to attend the clinics offered by Dr. Laurent.

The plot is a small thing, obviously made up for the purpose of reaching the natural climax, the birth. It deals with petty jealousies between doctors and trumps up a bit of hokum at the end to lend the picture pace and excitement. The fact that this succeeds in some measure is a tribute to the skill of the actors and the director.

As a Flop, Nobody Tops Kirk

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Movie actor Kirk Douglas has done it again. For the third time the Harvard Lampoon, undergraduate humor publication, has voted him "worst actor of the year."

The Oscar-in-reverse went to Douglas for his performance in "The Vikings." Thus, The Lampoon says, since Douglas appears to have a monopoly on the crown, the trophy is being retired.

The Lampoon, in its annual "movie worsts" gave the nod to Rita Hayworth in "Separate Tables" as "worst actress of the year."

The Lampoon gave its "Thank God Award" to Marilyn Monroe "who in sweeping public service has made no movies this year."

The Venus de Milo Award—Farewell to Arms. To Say the Least Award—Ingrid Bergman in Indiscreet. The Wilde Oscar—"Pre-sented to that actor who is willing to flaunt convention and reputation in the pursuit of artistic fulfillment": Jerry Lewis in The Geisha Boy.

'Day of Delight' Nets High Praise For School Drama

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

"A wonderful evening" that followed an afternoon full of delightful things stirred Anne Mossman, adjudicating the Greater Victoria Schools Drama Festival for the second day Tuesday.

On the other hand, she did not spare her shrewd critical observations, pointing out the flaws as consistently and firmly as she uttered praise of the aspects that thrilled her.

Tuesday night session was held at Oak Bay Junior High School, senior high level being represented in three plays. Afternoon program took place at Colquitz Junior High.

"After the Church Supper," by Dorothy Sterling. Presented by St. Margaret's School. Mrs. Esther Howard. Rosemary Kilgour. Miss Katherine Gardner. Sarah Hughes. Mrs. Clara Tracey. Jeannie Belcher. Mrs. Edith Pryor. Margaret Newberry. Mrs. Blossom Richards. Carol Turner. Miss. Director, Mrs. Ann Kane. Warner. Stage Manager, Elizabeth Wells. Judith Adams.

Miss Mossman had something to say about the factors involved in choice of play in adjudicating this entry. She felt that a group of fine actors had been somewhat wasted on what was nothing more than a skit.

Speech, tempo, cueing had been excellent. The dialogue was spontaneous and the characters "very individuals. There was something worthwhile in each girl, she commented.

"The Fish," by Yves Cabrol. Presented by Oak Bay Senior High School. Louis Cabrol. William Sawley. Yvette Plum. Valerie Byers. Celestine Plum. Nora Wright. Yves Cabrol. David Laundry. Pierre Plum. Robert Foster. Marianne Cabrol. Elizabeth Bayle. Hortense Plum. Catherine Emory. Georges Dardin. David Holston. Director, Miss Katharine B. Yendall. Stage Manager, Mr. Eric Orme.

"I feel superfluous in trying to criticize this play," the adjudicator commented warmly. "Everything was so enchanting."

A comedy of contrasts, it had been well-rehearsed, grouping was lovely, entrances and exits well done, costumes delightful. In fact—"Congratulations all round," Miss Mossman concluded.

"Thank You, Doctor," by Gilbert F. Presented by Mount Douglas High School. Nurse Gray. Susan Forrest. Mrs. Lester. Roberta Close. Doctor Gurney. Derek Chambers. Patient. Brooke Tunison. Denny Curt. Gordon Shrimpton. Director, Alan E. Jones. Stage Manager, Bob MacDonald.

A good set and a good cast with a strong sense of the farcical element were commended by the adjudicator in this entry. It had been a lot of fun for the actors and for the audience as well, she remarked. Clever details in the set which caught her eye included the off stage lighting and use of a shadow on the door, giving each entrance added significance. Each member of the cast was highly commended.

"The Farce of the Devil's Bridge," by Henri Cheson. Presented by Mount Junior-Senior High School. Translated by Sir Harry Jackson. The False Pedlar. Michael Woods. Father Kado, Hermit. Joe Milligan. The Cat. Michael Gordon. Olanid. Malthurin. A Breton Fisherman. Gerry Schofield. His Daughter. Daphne Grive. The Property Master. Peter Gardner. Director, Janet Milligan. Stage Manager, Barry Lee.

This was a simply marvelous play, Miss Mossman said, and the production, under student-director Janet Milligan, had been immensely successful.

The actors achieved the underlying meaning of lines. They played it as straight comedy rather than farce and more humorous touches could have been introduced, she felt.

Her highest praise was given Michael Woods, whom she described as "a very fine young actor."

"The Emperor's Nightingale," by Dan Tabor. Presented by Colquitz Junior High. Left Chorus. Bruce Ferguson. Right Chorus. Derek Thompson. Emperor. Ricky Critchley. Lord-in-Waiting. Ervin Duke. First Lady-in-Waiting. Sandra Wilson. Second Courtier. Larry Twells. Second Lady-in-Waiting. Carol Reynolds. Kitchen Maid. Margaret Morgan. Royal Guard. Douglas Macdonald. Third Courtier. Joe McCrege. Death. Larry Twells. Other Courtiers and Ladies-in-Waiting. Bruce Ferguson. Linda Fillingim. Anne-McMullan. Dawna Laxalle. Wilhelmina Vervey. Dancers. Lytne Burton. Frances Teiter. Melaine. Wanda Feston. Doree. Claudia Cole. Director, L. E. Johnson. Stage Manager, H. Salmon.

This production had a most exciting effect with its opening and the chorus movement at the outset had been perfect. But later the production had stumbled against "that old bugbear—timing," said Miss Mossman.

But she had never seen more beautiful costumes. (See also Page 30)

More about Eaton's

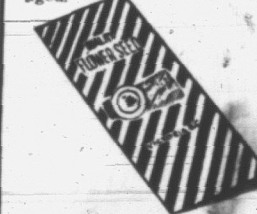

Gardening is rather like painting, in a way. (Not painting pictures, but painting rooms, is what we mean!) You take a little material and you add a very large amount of labour, also known as elbow-grease or sweat of the brow, before any results show. If you use poor quality material, results are poor—good material, and you should get good results. Either way, the expenditure of labour is the same—so the obvious moral is—use the best.

What's Best?
Who knows? Everyone has his own views, so the smart thing to do is pick material that someone else has used successfully. Leaving the paint business alone, and considering gardens and specifically flowers, what's the very best garden you know of in these parts? Butchart's is the obvious answer—world renowned for its beauty, visited by thousands each year, and just dripping with gorgeous blooms of every shape, colour and variety. So why not use the seeds that the Butchart Gardens use?

Sounds Logical
Yes, it seems the smart thing to do—if you can get those seeds. Well, you don't have to sneak around the Gardens furtively, shaking the blooms into an envelope—Butchart's raise their own seeds, and you can buy them from EATON'S Garden Shop. There are 4 1/2 acres of "behind the scenes" seed fields out at Brentwood, and not less than 170 different varieties of seeds are packed.

Read All About It
You'll find a handy little catalogue waiting for you at EATON'S Garden Shop, on the Lower Main Floor, and a display of Butchart Garden seeds right there too. If you're just a beginner in the garden business, you can't do better than buy the Special Collection—one packet each of eight different varieties, selected for summer colour, for only $1.00. If you're not even a beginner, and haven't got a garden, why not try Window Box Mixture—blend of ten choice varieties for 35c?

More Sophisticated
Ever seen a candy-striped flower? Nor have we, so we can hardly wait for our Peppermint Stick Zinnia to burst into flower. For only 25c you can join us in anticipation. If you like something showy, how about a Shasta Daisy with 5" blooms (yes, 5"!); for all-the-year beauty you can grow strawflowers, then dry them for winter bouquets. Acroclium alone is 15c a packet, or you may buy the mixed strawflowers, four different kinds for 25c.

Best Sellers
It's always interesting to know what most people prefer, and in this case the most popular choice may surprise you. It's dwarf morning glory, deep blue with white halo and gold throat, at 25c a packet. This is where all veteran gardeners shudder, for morning glory, or convolvulus, has a well-earned evil reputation for getting out of hand. Before you know where you are, it's all over the place, choking every other plant to death. Here's the big news—this variety will not spread—so plant it, enjoy its beauty, and don't worry about a thing!

Dishwashers

Nothing like a dishwasher to give you hours of extra time for gardening! Right now, this Spring, is the time to buy that dishwasher you've dreamed of—and spend Summer in the garden, instead of at the sink. EATON'S, of course, has a wide selection of dishwashers for your choice—with the all-new VIKING taking first place as a worthy member of the Viking family.

VIKING Portable

The de luxe CM2D model has high-capacity water heater element, self-operating detergent dispenser, and rinse injector built into door, which eliminates "spotting" as your dishes dry. Special condensation system keeps all moisture inside the machine instead of venting it into your home. ### GUILTY OF BANG

It Was So A Plane, They Say

The boom you heard at 10 a.m. Tuesday was a bust—in the opinion of many Victoria residents, including Gordon Dowding, CCF MLA for Burnaby.

They are convinced the shattering noise was caused by a jet plane "busting" the sound barrier.

This despite denials from Canadian and U.S. air operations officials that a supersonic jet was in the vicinity. Mr. Dowding said, "I saw a plane and two contrails at about 20,000 feet, at the time of the explosion."

Many other people at widely scattered points reported they saw a jet plane. Dominion Astrophysical Observatory officials reported a "very small disturbance" was recorded at 10:10 a.m.

RCMP SENDS MORE MEN

OTTAWA (CP)—RCMP reinforcements are being sent to Newfoundland, headquarters here announced today. The numbers were not made known.

A spokesman for the force said he assumed that most or all of the men would take over posts left vacant by those involved in duties connected with the loggers' strike, where violence flared again Tuesday.

EYEWITNESS:

'Loggers Clubbed To Ground'

TORONTO (CP)—The Star publishes on its front page today a dispatch from Ray Timson, its staff correspondent in Badger, Nfld., which describes Tuesday's clash between RCMP, Newfoundland police and striking loggers as "a dark hour for Canada's finest."

Timson says he watched the fight from start to finish and that it was an hour-long attack by police on "mainly defenceless men."

His eyewitness story says: "A column of 66 policemen waded into a throng of striking loggers last night, clubbed two of them unconscious, flattened dozens more while wives and children screamed for them to stop."

"Nine of the loggers were arrested; most had been beaten to the ground, handcuffed and dragged to their feet."

"The police sticks were 18 inches long. I heard three sickening skull cracks."

BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS

"Alfred Forward, 26, was clubbed over the head and beaten about the arms and chest and left unconscious between two parked cars."

"At the height of the clubbing, which occurred beside the Full Gospel Church, children stood watching and began crying. Their mothers cried with them. One shouted: 'The men can't do anything. There are too many police.'"

"All through the attack, Insp. Arthur Argent, officer of the RCMP division here, kept raising his hip-pocket-sized blackball and shouting: 'Go to your homes, move out of here.'"

A member of the Newfoundland Constabulary was struck in the face with a piece of wood and critically injured. An RCMP officer was punched in the face.

Timson says "both blows were struck after the police started wielding billys."

PICKETS, POLICE BATTLE

Newfoundland Constable Near Death

(Times News Services)

Constable William Moss, 24, of St. John's, hit on the head with a piece of pulpwood, was reported near death by authorities at Lady Northcliffe Hospital here.

Moss, an unmarried RCMP veteran, was severely injured in a 15-minute battle between striking pulpwood loggers and police at Badger, 20 miles west of Grand Falls.

The RCMP who also took part in the skirmish Tuesday said reports indicated a build-up in the number of strikers defending the picket lines.

'He Was Hit Right Between the Eyes'

A hospital spokesman said the constable was suffering from a fractured skull and brain damage.

The attorney-general said Moss was set upon as he stepped from a car. "He was hit right between the eyes with a piece of pulpwood."

A number of loggers and at least one unidentified RCMP constable were reported slightly injured. Nine men were arrested.

PROBE PROMISED

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton today promised a careful investigation into all reports of Tuesday night's violence at Badger, Nfld., between striking woodworkers and police.

Mr. Fulton said the only police carrying sticks were members of the Newfoundland Constabulary, called in to help the RCMP. He said the RCMP carry only riding crops.

Mr. Fulton said the RCMP have conducted themselves "admirably" and have carried out "entirely preventive" actions.

After the RCMP division here, kept raising his hip-pocket-sized blackball and shouting: "Go to your homes, move out of here."

A member of the Newfoundland Constabulary was struck in the face with a piece of wood and critically injured. An RCMP officer was punched in the face.

Timson says "both blows were struck after the police started wielding billys."

GOV'T MUST HELP FARMERS—PEARSON

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson told a western farm delegation today he believes in government intervention to maintain farm income. But he gave the farmers no outright indication of whether he would fully support their demands for $300,000,000 in deficiency payments for grain. He said the Liberal party would make proposals and make its views known when the Commons debates government farm legislation.

Canada Defeats Russia 3-1

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—Belleville McFarlands, Canada's representatives in the world hockey championships, today defeated Russia 3-1 in a "pressure" contest.

From Times News Services

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—Canada led Russia 2-0 today at the end of the second period of what is expected to be the decisive game of the world amateur hockey championship.

Canada's two goals came close together in the middle portion of the opening period. The second period was scoreless.

Both teams looked tense and nervous as the game opened and the early pace was fast with both teams missing scoring chances.

Then the Canadians, frequently booed by the crowd for their alleged rough play, struck fast.

Gordie Berenson broke away on the right wing and gave the puck to Denis Boucher, who scored from six feet out. That was at 9:05.

Less than three minutes later, Moe Benoit tallied on a pass from Wayne Brown, who had stopped beyond the line to wait for him. (Brown formerly played with the Victoria Cougars.)

Plainly shaken, the Russians began to play erratically. Play was about even in the second period. The Russians having a goal disallowed at the buzzer ending the period.

FIRST PERIOD
Canada, Boucher (Berenson) 9:05.
Russia, Benoit (Brown) 12:30.
Penalties: Smoke Canada and Sidorov, Russia (two minutes for holding 8:20). Widespread Canada (two minutes for tripping at 18:40).

SECOND PERIOD

New U.S. Oil Import Curbs Protested by Canadians

WASHINGTON (CP)—Tougher new curbs on oil imports into the United States are in effect today.

The move is being received critically in Canada.

President Eisenhower Tuesday ordered that imports of crude oil and other foreign petroleum products be curtailed under mandatory federal control. His order replaced a system of voluntary restraints that had been operated in one form or another since 1957.

More sweeping than any of the voluntary curbs, the presidential order covers not only crude oil but residual oils, gasoline, jet fuel, asphalt, naphtha, fuel oil, lubricating oil, liquefied petroleum gases and unfinished petroleum products.

"The restraints on crude and unfinished products went into effect today, those on gasoline and other finished products begin April 1."

Act On Report Or Strike On Friday

By PETE LOUDON

A new ultimatum for government action on bargaining rights before Friday—"or the strike is on"—was issued today by the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Publication by the government of the Carrothers Report, and implementation of its recommendations, is the only move which will avoid a work-stoppage by 14,000 civil service employees within 36 hours, an association spokesman said.

General secretary of the 11,200-member BCGEA, Edward O'Connor, said at noon the wage issue is settled.

"We have accepted the money. It is no longer an issue."

He referred to cabinet release of a schedule of increases totalling $3,000,000. (See story page 2.)

But the scheduled strike at 7 a.m. Friday, he said, will go ahead unless:

1. The cabinet releases the results of the Carrothers inquiry into extension of bargaining rights to the BCGEA.

2. The cabinet agrees to implement any recommendations in the report "which are acceptable to us."

3. The implementation must be by order-in-council pending legislation at the 1960 sitting of the legislature, because it is felt it is too late to pass legislation at this session.

Meantime, the threatened strike of 156 team engineers Thursday morning is expected to be called off this afternoon following a wire sent by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black Tuesday night.

It said the comptroller general would do all possible to provide the engineers' increase in the April cheques and their retroactive pay (for one year) in May cheques.

But Mr. O'Connor pointed out if this is acceptable to the engineers, it would mean only a one-day postponement, because if the BCGEA's general strike takes place Friday, the engineers would be involved in that walkout.

Some Members in Doubt Over Demand

The switch in emphasis from salaries to bargaining rights left some members of the association in Victoria in doubt.

Some employees said this morning: "We voted to strike over wages, not over bargaining rights."

Mr. O'Connor said, however: "We have received 39 telegrams from 48 branches, all of them supporting the executive that the issue is still bargaining rights. We have absolute authority to make this the issue."

"The rank and file is solid on this. If we break down, the membership would bolt."

Debate in Legislature Rejected

The strike crisis was broached in the legislature Tuesday night.

George Gregory (Lib. Victoria) asked leave of the House to adjourn debate on estimates to consider the matter of "urgent public importance."

Speaker Hugh Shantz ruled this was not urgent but had been under negotiation for some time. Mr. Gregory challenged the ruling. He waved a copy of Tuesday's Times and asked the premier to confirm the fact a crisis exists.

"This is the only Hansard we have," he said when the premier told him the news.

He said tabling of the bargaining rights report was basis of the 1957 settlement. He said at that time, Premier Bennett promised to table the report in the House and make copies available to the association.

"It is a question of government integrity," he said.

There have been strong rumors that the report of Dr. F. A. Carrothers' inquiry recommends some form of bargaining rights. Some officials have said it would be acceptable even if compulsory arbitration replaced the right to strike, provided there was union recognition.

paper was not an official document for presentation in the House.

In a division, all the Social Credit members supported the speaker in a 32-13 vote.

B.C. Federation of Labor president William Black today promised full support of his 115,000-member association if the civil service strikes.

He said support would be "financial and in respect to picket lines."

This was taken to mean no union member would deliver goods to any government operation or job, for example, if such delivery meant crossing a picket line.

Limited, said the United States is treating Canada like "any other oil country" by its mandatory quotas on oil imports. "Canada's oil should be looked upon as domestic oil of North America," Mr. Rea said in an interview. "And for Americans to make no exceptions for Canada in this embargo is a terrible blow."

By its mandatory quotas on imports, the U.S. is treating Canada like "Kuwait, Borneo or any other oil country," for getting entirely we are a neighbor and allied in joint defence."

However, Mr. Rea said since Canada is not filling its quotas under the voluntary system it is unlikely the change to a mandatory system will further cut Canada's exports to the U.S.

In his order, Eisenhower indicated he hopes to work out with Canada a "co-ordinated"

Legal Path To Clear Debt Paved

Amendment of the Revenue Act to prepare for the government's debt elimination program in 1959 and 1960 was proposed in the legislature Tuesday.

A bill introduced by Attorney-General Robert Bonner will permit the comptroller-general to issue a certificate stating B.C. is debt-free whenever sinking funds are equal in size to the direct debt.

According to the bill when the certificate is issued it will mean no further sinking fund payments will be required and provincial debentures now held in sinking funds will be cancelled. It also stipulates that interest earnings of sinking fund investments may be used only to pay interest due on the direct debt.

Another bill cancels the highway development fund set up by previous governments through borrowings. But the bill is not effective until B.C. is free of direct debt.

There is an amendment to the Trustees Act to agree with legislation of other provinces in respect to permitted investments of trust funds.

Permitted investments include provincial or federal securities, municipal securities, real estate first mortgages and securities which are guaranteed by the province.

More safety measures are ordered in a bill to amend the Boiler and Pressure Vessels Act, one provision being that an engineer-in-charge may not leave his post without replacement for longer than 15 minutes.

Brutal Action By Vancouver Police Probed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A one-handed man from suburban Surrey has alleged that police broke his arm and nose in an incident Saturday night. Police Chief George Archer is making a "full investigation."

Gordon G. Recknagel, 22, made the claim Monday in a complaint to Mayor Tom Alsbury.

Recknagel said he plans to seek legal advice about suing the policemen and the city for damages. He was treated in hospital for a fractured left arm and nose, and head lacerations. Two of his teeth were broken.

Recknagel and his friend, Robert Arlitt, 24, of Surrey, said they noticed a fight as they were leaving a cabaret Saturday. As they passed police entering the cabaret, Recknagel said he commented: "Reinforcements have arrived. Bully, big deal."

He said he was grabbed from behind just outside the cabaret. One policeman held him around the neck while another put a wrist lock on him.

The hook which he has used for a right hand since an industrial accident six years ago came off, Recknagel said.

"They pushed me into the paddy wagon. Inside, one put great pressure on my arm. I told them: 'You'll break my arm and it's the only one I've got.'"

"He said 'shut up' and added more pressure. I heard a big crack and there was an awful pain. My arm broke."

"I pleaded with him to take the pressure off—that my other arm was still raw at the stump ... He put more pressure on."

ZILLION-TO-1 DISCOVERY IN THE CRIB

Dave Gibson became a zillion-to-one shot cribbage player Monday when he drew a 29 hand from the crib in a noon-hour game with fellow workers.

Gibson, Ted Allen, Fred Davis and Frank Hyman, employees of Colwood Motor Transport, were playing their usual lunch-hour game.

A 29 hand is always a long-odds occurrence, but the odds against drawing such a hand from the crib are so great they are practically astronomical, experts say.

Speculators Stir Flurry

Sparked by President Eisenhower's remark that any shooting over Berlin would involve a nuclear war, coupled with a reported early rise in copper prices, speculators had a field day this afternoon.

Their activities provided all the major bourses with their busiest afternoon rush in months.

The 2 p.m. volume at Toronto soared to 6,350,000 shares, a mark not touched since Nov. 14 last.

Gains, even in the space-age issues, were not extensive, but the tone was reflected in all sections with the exception of oils, which suffered slightly following the U.S. announcement of compulsory oil import restrictions.

AT TORONTO—Speculation that copper prices are due for another increase today sparked the busiest mid-afternoon trading since last July 7.

The market was narrowly ahead but aside from speculative issues interest was not too much. On index golds and base metals gained more than three-quarters of a point, while industrials recovered from an early one-half point loss and were up a few decimal points. Western oils slipped lower, down more than 1 1/2 points.

The 2 p.m. volume was 6,350,000 shares, passing the Nov. 14 mark of 5,898,000 at the same hour and making today the heaviest fourth-hour since July 7 when 11,093,000 shares traded in the same time.

AT MONTREAL—A burst of activity in the speculative issues was the feature of mixed trading early this afternoon. The speculative stocks, led by the coppers, were generally higher. Most gains extended to six or seven cents.

Trading on the industrial section was active but there were few features. Most changes were fractional.

Refining oils and pipelines weakened as the United States

AT LONDON generally firm conditions prevailed although buying was selective.

Transatlantic favorites came in for support. Hudson's Bay was a prominent. However, Hudson Bay oil and gas were lower.

Coppers ruled quiet but gold shares again had a good day. Oils showed improvement.

AT VANCOUVER prices showed an upward trend with active trading in mining stock. Bethlehem Copper moved 45-700 at $1.93. On Potash traded 12,300 at $1.25. Mid West Copper moved 44,000 at $3. Sheep Creek traded 19,600 at $1.60.

Steels, utilities, aircrafts and most of the metal group were up.

MONTE ROBERTS

A kindly constituent who identifies herself only as "Mrs. Johnson" has sent along an advertisement, to which I wish to introduce you as gently as possible.

Here is the advertisement, with the type of product and brand name deleted:

"YOU'RE LOOKING AT THE WORLD'S SWANKIEST take another look at (brand name's) gleaming NEW beauty... the NEW sleek lines enhanced by the modern medallion—never before such smart styling in a type of product! And it's easier to use, too—thanks to exclusive 'one-two' opening action! Five-year guarantee—PROOF of quality!"

Such an elegant advertisement! What sweeping writing, what choice of adjective, what smoothness of presentation!

But what is the product advertised? Is it a car? A refrigerator? A bracelet and earring set?

No, it isn't any of those. It's a can-opener.

And Mrs. Johnson, for one, is glad to see the artistic ability of the advertising copywriter turned at last to this long-neglected object.

"This lovely but essential (to modern gals) gadget has come into its own," says Mrs. Johnson. "A family which acquires one of these new can-openers could be the envy of the neighborhood."

"Mrs. Jones, after a visit to Mrs. Smith, would probably say to her husband: 'Really, her home and her children are a disgrace, but her can-opener! It's the most beautiful thing I've ever seen. Do you think we could afford one like it?'"

"And the husband examines his financial resources, takes out a bank loan, and acquires an even more beautiful can-opener than that owned by Mrs. Smith, just to keep peace in the family."

I am inclined to agree with Mrs. Johnson. Let us go on to bigger, better and more beautiful can-openers.

And let us look forward to the coming day of great prosperity and plenty for all, when there will be two cans of chicken in every pot, and two can-openers in every kitchen.

Gleaming, of course, with NEW beauty.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Eight nurses of the Victorian Order of Nurses here made 23,104 calls on some 3,000 patients in Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and View Royal, an annual report synopsis indicated Tuesday.

Full report will be presented to the annual meeting in Spencerhouse March 18 at 2 p.m.

James Gibson, 19, of 4561 West Saanich, was fined $35 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to being in possession of four hubcaps stolen last November.

The caps, valued at $35, were taken by two juveniles from a car owned by Russell Taylor, which was parked at 833 Yates. They then were hidden behind the building, court was told, and Gibson got them when the caps were offered to him by the juveniles.

Gibson was admonished for not reporting the articles when he learned later that they were stolen.

ASK THE TIMES

A—It is a translation from Cree Indian meaning the same thing.

Q—Would you kindly let me know the population of Australia? A.B.

About 9,500,000, excluding aborigines. The last time an attempt was made to enumerate the nomadic blackmen was in 1947, when there were an estimated 24,000.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve controversies or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or securities. These should be submitted to dealers.

William A. Nellies, 520 Falkland, was elected first vice-president of the B.C. Young Conservatives Association at the association's annual convention in Vancouver.

He is also president of the Greater Victoria Young Progressive Conservative Association.

Elected president of the parent body was G. R. B. Coultas, formerly of Victoria, and now residing in Vancouver.

Some $4,000 was cut from the city fire department's 1958 estimates Tuesday by finance committee but the preliminary figures still indicate a budget of $551,015, up some $19,367 from last year.

Wage increases could send it higher.

City comptroller Dennis Young Tuesday recommended appropriation of $3,000 for a detailed study of new electronic business machines for City Hall.

He said substantial sums could be saved if the right machines are picked when the present equipment, worth $45,000, is renewed within two or three years.

Finance committee made no decision but indicated favorable response to the proposal.

'LEFT OUT' DAUGHTER WINS LEGACY

The disinherited daughter of a Victoria doctor was awarded almost $15,000 Tuesday in B.C. Supreme Court when Mr. Justice Norman W. Whittaker varied the will of Dr. Darell Peters Hanington.

The doctor died March 7, 1958, passing over in his will a daughter, Mrs. Ida Agnes Lundahl of Vancouver. He had favored his own sister, Mrs. Eleanor Rye, 51, of Trafalgar, Ont., with a life interest in the residuary estate, with the money going to her two sons after her death.

Court was told there had obviously been good will between father and daughter, since Dr. Hanington had advanced money to Mrs. Lundahl to help her buy a home.

Mr. Justice Whittaker reduced Mrs. Rye's interest in the estate to $2,000 and cut her two sons out entirely. The money is to go to Mrs. Lundahl.

APPEALS OWN ASSESSMENT—AND LOSES

Alderman Fails to Beat Himself

Ald. Elmer McEwen stepped down from his membership in the city's business tax appeal board temporarily today to appeal his own assessment and lost.

He made an appeal, through counsel, against a rental as-essment of $22,220 on his three businesses at Fort and Douglas. The 6 1/2 per cent tax is based on assessment.

Ald. McEwen's claim was that his taxes, which increased 5 1/2 times since 1946, were exhorbitant.

Rental appraiser R. E. Wells

argued that the same formula was used for assessing the rental as had been used for other premises.

Board was told that the 50 per cent increase in assessed rental value over actual rent payments could spell the difference between a business success or failure.

However, after prolonged and involved discussion of the appeal, the board reduced the assessment total by only $940, on recommendation of Mr. Wells. It was far less than the reduction sought.

Japan Market Booms For Island Iron Ore

Shipment of iron ore from Vancouver Island and adjacent areas to Japan is developing into a $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 business.

This became apparent today when Nimpkish Iron Mines Ltd. announced it will begin shipping iron ore in July or August from its properties in the Nimpkish Lake region of north Vancouver Island.

Vernon Wines, project manager, said Nimpkish will spend $2,000,000 to bring its property to the production and shipping point. The project will employ 35 to 50 men on a year-round basis, he said.

Construction phase will employ up to 100 men.

It is estimated the Nimpkish program might mean $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 worth of business to the mine and area. Depending on fluctuations in demand by Japanese industry the contract might run to five years.

Nimpkish has proven up 1,000,000 tons of iron ore and expects to produce considerably more through an exploration program on its holdings and elsewhere in the region.

Nimpkish is the third B.C. company to deal with Japan. A fourth deal is being negotiated.

Empire Development will ship $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 worth of iron concentrate to Japan over a three-year period. Already 300,000 tons have been exported. The Empire property is at Port McNeill.

Texada Mines Ltd. has shipped over 1,500,000 tons from Texada Island. Estimated value of its deal with Japanese interests is $10,000,000.

Pacific Quarries Ltd. and Cascade Lode Mines plan to develop more than 300,000 tons of high grade ore near Zebalos for shipment to Japan.

$1,000,000 PROJECT

Nimpkish plans to move its iron ore 26 miles to tidewater at Beaver Cove where conveying equipment and bulk loading facilities will be installed by Canadian Forest Products railway. Crushing, screening concentrating equipment and a camp must be installed at the mine site.

Installations will cost about $1,000,000. A similar sum will be spent to bring the project into operation.

BUT NEW TACK STUDIED

City Hits Snag On Parking Plan

The provincial government has declined to introduce an amendment to the Municipal Act which Victoria sought to clear the way for using parking meter fees to pay off the proposed View Street mall and parking development. Mayor Percy Scourrah said today.

But the city is working on another avenue towards the same goal, he added.

"We aren't disturbed about this," Mayor Scourrah explained. "We have other, and we think better, plans for achieving the same result."

The request for special legislation fell victim to a government policy deterring amendments to the Municipal Act for special cases not applicable to the whole province. No such amendments have been made in the recent past.

"The question of the bylaw never came up," said the mayor. "The only question was whether special legislation would be introduced and the government decided against that."

He did not elaborate on the new tack being taken by the city to provide for repayment of the $1,000,000 debentures through parking fees.

File Claim Early and Save

(This is the first of a series on how to make out your income tax returns and get refunds and best possible concessions. It is prepared by Gordon A. Green, partner in the firm of Bailey, Mendith, Holmes & Co., chartered accountants, in collaboration with income tax officials. It will continue daily.)

By GORDON A. GREEN

Lovely weather we're having! But don't grab that rake or lawn mower yet.

Every year numerous Victorians make the same mistake. They see the sun shine in early March and all of a sudden garden fever strikes.

If these people only realized it, they could save their backs and their pocketbooks by following this suggestion:

Put first things first! The gardens will grow anyway, so unfortunately, will interest on unpaid income taxes.

Maybe you have a refund like thousands of others, but it isn't doing you any good until you prove it to the Income Tax Department.

The sooner you calculate your income tax position for 1958 the better. If you have a refund coming, then claim it as soon as possible.

Every taxpayer would be well advised to take the following steps immediately, as a preliminary to filing his or her 1958 tax returns.

1. Pick up your T-4 slip from your employer (two copies). These slips are statements showing your gross earnings, income tax deducted, taxable allowances, etc.

2. Obtain two blank copies of a 1958 income tax return. (One to send to the department, and one to keep for your own records.) There are two kinds of returns for individuals. Most persons should use the T-1 Short. Others should use the T-1 General. Make sure you get the correct one.

3. Sort out all your receipts for 1958 covering charitable donations, medical expenses, union or professional dues, registered retirement saving plan premiums, etc. Check these receipts and if you are missing any, obtain the missing receipts from the party to whom you made payment.

Got a slight headache? Don't worry, you got through last spring successfully and soon you'll know the good or bad news this year.

Scientists of the Pacific Naval Laboratory at Esquimalt contributed to the research.

The RCN's newest destroyer escort, HMCS Kootenay, arrived at Pedder Bay from Vancouver today to take on ammunition before proceeding to Esquimalt Harbor.

She will undergo work-ups under direction of the Pacific Command until April 3, when she leaves for Halifax to join the Atlantic Command.

Kootenay was commissioned Saturday at Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd., North Vancouver.

Intensive study of the new sonar is the product of intensive study and exhaustive trials carried out jointly by technical and staff officers of the RCN and scientists of the Defence Research Board.

In general, this new detection equipment is designed to overcome the limitations imposed by unfavorable water temperatures, salinity and other conditions which tend to distort sound passing through the water.

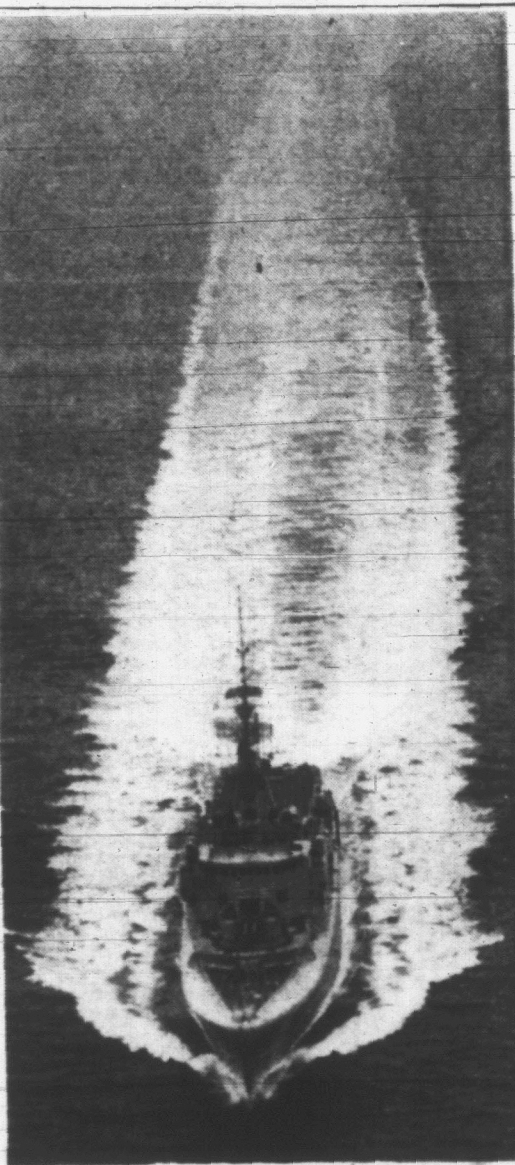

The new sonar equipment also has a greater range than that previously in use.

BETTER GUNS

Kootenay has a twin 3-inch 70 calibre gun mounted forward, replacing the 3-inch 50 calibre gun with which the St. Laurent-class is equipped, but there are no Bofors close-range weapons.

The 3-inch 70 has a greater rate of fire than the 3-inch 50. Kootenay carries homing torpedoes with improved capabilities over those in the St. Laurent class.

Minor changes have been made in the bridge structure, which now has wings, replacing the open pilotage position on top of the St. Laurent enclosed bridge.

She is the fourth of the Restigouche class destroyer escort developed from the St. Laurent class, and the first of the class to be built on the West Coast.

Advances over the St. Laurent class include sonar equipment, guns and homing torpedoes.

Title Almost Cinch

By ED SIMON

PRAGUE (CP)—Canada defeated Russia 3-1 today in the world hockey championships, throwing the Russians for their first loss and virtually clinching the title for the second straight year.

It was a 2-0 shutout for Canada until the third period when each team tallied after a scoreless second period.

Dennis Boucher and Moe Benoit were the first period scorers.

Playing coach Ike Hillbrand talked for Canada in the third and Yakushev scored the only Russian goal.

TWO STRAIGHT WINS

Canada, defending champion, now has two straight wins in the final round of the championships after three victories in the preliminary rounds.

The squad from Belleville, Ont., has three more games to play—against Sweden, the United States and Czechoslovakia—but the Russian match was considered the climactic test of the tournament.

Today's victory put Canada in a three-way tie in the six-team standings with Czechoslovakia and the U.S. All have four points, but to the Canadians the defeat of Russia meant much more.

BOTH START CAUTIOUSLY

Both teams started the first period cautiously. Boucher, 25-year-old left winger from Montreal, took a goal-mouth pass from Gordie Bell (Red) Benson and put the Canadians one up at 9:00 as they began to apply the pressure.

Three minutes later Benoit, 190-pound defenceman, finished off a two-man rush with left winger Wayne Brown by poking the puck into the open corner to make it 2-0.

The Russians held a slight edge territorially in the second frame but both netminders, Gordie Bell for Canada and Nikolai Puchkov for Russia, were called upon to make brilliant saves.

FIRST PERIOD

1. Canada, Boucher (Benson) 5:05.
2. Canada, Benoit (Brown) 12:40.
Penalties: Smirnov (Canada) and Sidorov (Russia) (two minutes for holding at 1:30). Hillbrand (Canada) (two minutes for tripping at 15:40).

SECOND PERIOD

THIRD PERIOD

3. Canada, Hillbrand (Bradley) 9:30.
4. Russia, Yakushev (Groshev) 12:40.
Penalties: McEllen (Canada) (10 minutes for tripping at 14:40).
Saves—Puchkov, nine; Bell, eight.

ULTIMATUM ON STRIKE BY CIVIL SERVANTS

Three-in-One Aircraft May Take Us to Mainland

Future air travel between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle may be in revolutionary Rotodyne aircraft being built by Fairey Aviation Company in England, according to statement made by official of

FINAL BULLETINS

Final Arguments in Duncan Trial

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—The prosecutor began final arguments today in the Elizabeth Duncan murder trial. Said District Attorney Roy Gustafson: "She is either guilty of murder in the first degree or nothing. There is no second degree or manslaughter involved."

The penalty for first-degree murder is death or life imprisonment.

Plane Crashes in English Channel

LONDON (AP)—An American military plane crashed into the English Channel today about 27 miles off the Isle of Wight.

There was no word of how many persons were aboard.

Canada Sweeps Curling Series 5-0

FALKIRK, Scotland (CP)—Canada's curling champions completed a five-game sweep of the Scotch Cup competition tonight by defeating Scotland 9-2 here.

Earlier today, the Richardson rink from Regina defeated Willie Young's Scottish champions 15-9 in the fourth match.

MAY MAKE 'FERRY' RUN

Vertical, take-off aircraft with forward propulsion may be used by Trans-Canada Air Lines on the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle service, it was indicated by Dave Tennant, TCA's director of operations planning, in Vancouver Tuesday.

Mr. Tennant said the 55 to 70-passenger Fairey Aviation Co. Rotodyne is being seriously considered for short-haul routes, particularly the Vancouver-Island-Mainland service.

"The Rotodyne is definitely the most promising aircraft that has come along in this field," he said.

Mr. Tennant added that, in the present stage of development of the Rotodyne, initial costs and operational costs would necessitate an increase in fares.

TCA engineers have visited the Fairey plant in England to see the Rotodyne undergoing tests, and Fairey engineers have surveyed the TCA system to see where the new aircraft could best be used.

The Rotodyne was developed to solve the problem of providing service from mid-city to mid-city in metropolitan areas.

Aerodynamically, the Rotodyne combines some of the principles of an autogyro, a helicopter, and a fixed-wing aircraft.

Its makers claim it has a useful load of 39.4 per cent of its gross weight, as against 28 per cent for the helicopter.

It has a four-bladed rotor driven by four pressure jets at the tips. The rotor can be powered to give lift as a helicopter, or allowed to autorotate as an autogyro.

A TCA spokesman said today the Rotodyne, while it may be the best aircraft for the Island-Mainland routes, is still "a long way off." Fairey engineers are still testing and modifying the aircraft.

PICKETS BATTLE POLICE

Newfoundland Constable Near Death; Others Hurt

(Times News Services)

BADGER, Nfld.—Tension mounted in the bitter Newfoundland loggers' strike today while a critically injured policeman was given little chance to live following Tuesday's outbreak of violence.

Constable William Moss, 24, of St. John's, hit on the head with a piece of pulpwood, was reported near death by authorities at Lady Northcliffe Hospital here.

Moss, an unmarried RCAF veteran, was severely injured in a 15-minute battle between striking pulpwood loggers and police at Badger, 20 miles west of Grand Falls.

The RCMP who also took part in the skirmish Tuesday said reports indicated a build-up in the number of strikers defending the picket lines.

They also reported the arrival of hundreds of sympathizers from the logging camps on the west coast of the province.

Attorney-General Leslie Curtis described the situation as "a menace to peace and law and order."

Moss has been a member for six months of the 171-man Newfoundland Constabulary, a provincially financed force which polices the city of St. John's but has jurisdiction in any part of the province.

An RCMP spokesman said a patrol on the Badger-Buchans Highway in central Newfoundland found 250 to 300 loggers "obstructing traffic."

An additional 60 RCMP constables were sent to Badger after assistance was requested.

The spokesman said police efforts to open the highway "met with interference" from loggers carrying hockey stick handles, bottles, wooden clubs and axes.

Mr. Ladd said he was told the loggers moved to the side of the road when ordered to do so by police.

Bargaining Rights Issue

By PETE LOUDON

A new ultimatum for government action on bargaining rights before Friday—"or the strike is on"—was issued today by the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Publication by the government of the Carrothers Report, and implementation of its recommendations, is the only move which will avoid a work-stoppage by 14,000 civil service employees within 36 hours, an association spokesman said.

General secretary of the 11,200-member BCGEA, Edward O'Connor, said at noon the wage issue is settled.

"We have accepted the money. It is no longer an issue."

He referred to cabinet release of a schedule of increases totalling $3,000,000. (See story page 2.)

But the scheduled strike at 7 a.m. Friday, he said, will go ahead unless:

1. The cabinet releases the results of the Carrothers inquiry into extension of bargaining rights to the BCGEA.

2. The cabinet agrees to implement any recommendations in the report "which are acceptable to us."

3. The implementation must be by order-in-council pending legislation at the 1960 sitting of the legislature, because it is felt it is too late to pass legislation at this session.

Meantime, the threatened strike of 156 steam engineers Thursday morning is expected to be called off this afternoon following a wire sent by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black Tuesday night.

It said the comptroller general would do all possible to provide the engineers' increase in the April cheques and their retroactive pay (for one year) in May cheques.

But Mr. O'Connor pointed out if this is acceptable to the engineers, it would mean only a one-day postponement, because if the BCGEA general strike takes place Friday, the engineers would be involved in that walkout.

The rank and file is solid on this. If we break down, the membership would split."

He said tabling of the bargaining rights report is basis of the 1957 settlement. He said at that time, Premier Bennett promised to table the report in the House and make copies available to the association.

"It is a question of government integrity," he said.

There have been strong rumors that the report of Dr. O'Connor would be tabled.

New U.S. Oil Import Curbs Protested by Canadians

WASHINGTON (CP)—Tougher new curbs on oil imports into the United States are in effect today.

The move is being received critically in Canada.

President Eisenhower Tuesday ordered that imports of crude oil and other foreign petroleum products be curtailed under mandatory federal control. His order replaced a system of voluntary restraints that had been operated, in one form or another, since 1957.

More sweeping than any of the voluntary curbs, the presidential order covers not only crude oil but residual oils, gasoline, jet fuel, asphalt, naphtha, fuel oil, lubricating oil, liquefied petroleum gases and unfinished petroleum products.

The restraints on crude and unfinished products went into effect today, those on gasoline and other finished products begin April 1.

Eisenhower's action was urged by U.S. coal and oil industries as vital to national defence.

Among Canadian voices raised in early criticism were these:

Trade Minister Gordon Churchill, who said he regretted the U.S. did not "accede to Canada's request to exclude our country from the restrictions."

"On the basis of continental defence, we consider our oil industry is important to both countries," Churchill said.

Opposition Leader Pearson, who described the action as inadmissible at a time when Canadian and U.S. defence policy is being integrated.

John Proctor, general manager of the Canadian Petroleum Association, said in Calgary that Canada's already restricted oil market faces a "very grave situation."

W. Harold Rea, president of Canadian Oil Companies Limited, said the United States is treating Canada like "any other oil country" by its mandatory quotas on oil imports.

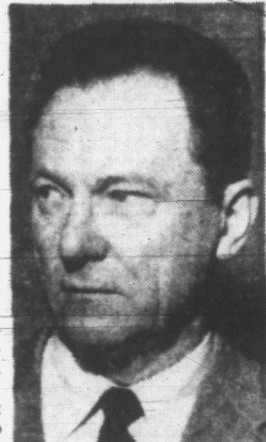

"Canada's oil should be looked upon as domestic oil of North America," Mr. Rea said in an interview. "And for Americans to make no exceptions for Canada in this embargo is a terrible blow."

By its mandatory quotas on imports, the U.S. is treating Canada like "Kuwait, Borneo or any other oil country—forgetting entirely we are a neighbor and allied in joint defence."

However, Mr. Rea said since Canada is not filling its quotas under the voluntary system "it is unlikely the change to a mandatory system will further cut Canada's exports to the U.S."

'Loggers Clubbed To Ground'

TORONTO (CP)—The Star publishes on its front page today a dispatch from Ray Timson, its staff correspondent in Badger, Nfld., which describes Tuesday's clash between RCMP, Newfoundland police and striking loggers as "a dark hour for Canada's finest."

Timson says he watched the fight from start to finish and that it was an hour-long attack by police on "mainly defenceless men."

His eye-witness story says: "A column of 66 policemen waded into a throng of striking loggers last night, clubbed two of them unconscious, flattened doors more than 100 wives and children screamed for them to stop."

"Nine of the loggers were arrested; most had been beaten to the ground, handcuffed and dragged to their feet."

BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS

"Alfred Forward, 26, was clubbed over the head and beaten about the arms and chest and left unconscious between two parked cars."

"At the height of the clubbing, which occurred beside the Full Gospel Church, children stood watching and began crying. Their mothers cried with them. One shouted: 'The men can't do anything. There are too many police.'"

"All through the attack, Insp. Arthur Argent, officer of the RCMP division here, kept raising his hip-pocket-sized blackjack and shouting: 'Go to your homes, move out of here.'"

A member of the Newfoundland Constabulary was struck in the face with a piece of wood, and critically injured. An RCMP officer was punched in the face."

Timson says "both blows were struck after the police started wielding bilies."

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany tonight pledged that they would guarantee free access to West Berlin if it became a free city.

RCMP SENDS MORE MEN

OTTAWA (CP)—RCMP reinforcements are being sent to Newfoundland, headquarters here announced today. The numbers were not made known.

A spokesman for the force said he assumed that most or all of the men would take over posts left vacant by those involved in duties connected with the loggers' strike, where violence flared again Tuesday.

ULTIMATUM

F. A. Carrothers' inquiry recommends some form of bargaining rights. Some officials have said it would be acceptable even if compulsory arbitration replaced the right to strike, provided it was union recognition.

The strike crisis was broached in the legislature Tuesday night.

George Gregory (Lib. Victoria) asked leave of the House to adjourn debate on estimates to consider the matter of "urgent public importance."

Speaker Hugh Shantz ruled against the proposal saying this was not urgent but had been under negotiation for some time. Mr. Gregory challenged the ruling. He waved a copy of Tuesday's Times and asked the premier to confirm the fact a crisis exists.

"This is the only Hansard we have," he said, when the premier told him the newspaper was not an official document for presentation in the House.

In a division, all the Social Credit members supported the speaker in a 32-13 vote. B.C. Federation of Labor president William Black today promised full support of his 115,000-member association if the civil service strikes.

He said support would be "financial and in respect to picket lines."

This was taken to mean no union member would deliver goods to any government operation or job, for example, if such delivery meant crossing a picket line.

Campy's Son Paroled

NEW YORK (AP)—David Campanella, 15-year-old son of former baseball star Roy Campanella, was formally adjudged today a juvenile delinquent for breaking into a drug store. He was paroled in the custody of his mother and a Roman Catholic priest.
